Believe Attempt Being Made to Have Bolsheviks Modify Their Answer

IS FAVORABLE INDICATION
Attitude of France on Foreign Property Issue at Genoa Remains Firm

Genoa—The Russian reply to the allied memorandum, which was ready for presentation Wednesday forenoon was not delivered to the allies, as expected, for at the last moment, after a conversation between Foreign Minister Tchitcherine, Russia and Schanzer of Italy, it was decided the reply would have to undergo some alterations.

In French circles the belief was expressed that an attempt was being made to influence the Russians to modify their reply so as to permit the conference to continue.

M. Tchitcherine left Genoa at 3 p. m. returning to Santa Margherita to consult other members of the Russian delegation. It was not expected therefore that the reply could be presented until Thursday. The fact that the delay was due to M. Tchitcherine's visit to Signor Schanzer was regarded in some quarters as a favorable indication.

FRANCE IS FIRM

In a statement to the Associated Press before anything definite was known concerning the Russian reply the French delegation announced that France's attitude on the foreign property issue as regards Russia would probably remain firm, whatever attitude Belgium might eventually adopt. The attitude of the French delegation is the result of public opinion in France, which is bringing great pressure to bear on the government to make no concessions regarding the inviolability of property rights, the state must say. French industrial companies, it adds, have recently conferred with Premier Poincaré and urged him to take a strong stand for the restoration of foreign property, as otherwise they argue, future investments in Russia would be hopeless, as the French public would refuse to advance funds when it had no assurance that property rights would be respected.

SEIZE PROPERTY FOR UNPAID TAXES

Government Drive on Delinquent Income Tax Payers Ends Saturday

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—Unless delinquent federal income taxes amounting to $100,000 are paid by Saturday, a large factory up state and numerous smaller concerns will be seized on warrants, according to announcement of A. H. Wilkinson, internal revenue collector. The factory about to be seized owes the government $40,000 in back taxes. The next largest amount due is $10,000. From that sum the bills receivable will be divided to 25 cents. The drive on delinquent tax payers will end Saturday and the government is empowered to seize property, even homes, if the authorities see fit. About 2,000 warrants remain in the hands of revenue men.

SEEK EARLY PASSAGE OF SHIP SUBSIDY BILL

By Associated Press
Washington—Plans to obtain passage at the present session if possible of the administration ship subsidy bill, were being laid Wednesday by republican members of the senate commerce and house merchant marine committees. Informal agreement to work to this end was reached by the republican committee men at the urging of President Harding in a white house conference Thursday night.

Under the plan the hearings on the bill would be concluded this week and the measure taken up by the house next week.

Books By Old Authors Again Appeal To Boys

By Associated Press
Chicago—Henty, Du Chaillu, Oliver Optic and J. Fenimore Cooper, favorite authors of an older generation, are known to Young America no more, but Mallory, Mark Twain, Robert Stevenson and Sir Walter Scott are as popular as ever, according to Carl Rodon, public librarian, who has just published a selected list of boys books, 75,000 copies of which will be distributed here during Boys Week May 18-25.

An analysis of the list shows that fiction does not predominate. The biographies of Lincoln, Roosevelt and Edison, the boys book of Mounted Police; the book of sports, compiled by Christy Mathewson and others; the Boys book of Home Science and Construction and books of camping and woodcraft are in great demand. Among the perennial favorites are "Tom Sawyer," "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," "The Three Musketeers," "Twenty Thousand Leagues under the Sea" and "The Jungle Book."

The most up to date adventure book is one on air fighting in France.

PROVISION MADE FOR U. S. TO ACT ON COMMISSIONS

Appropriations Made for American Representation at World Parleys

By Associated Press
Washington—Provision for American representation upon two international commissions created at the arms conference is made under an agreement reported Wednesday between senate and house conferees on the annual appropriation bill for the senate and justice department. House conferees accepted senate amendments appropriating funds for American delegates to the commission to consider revision of the Chinese tariff and to study the Chinese judicial system including gradual abolition of extra territorial rights.

Another senate amendment accepted by the house conferees appropriates $20,000 for the allied debt funding commission.

The house managers also accepted a senate amendment increasing the state department's confidential emergency fund from $100,000 to $400,000. This had been requested urgently by Secretary Hughes.

A senate amendment reducing the appropriation for the inter-American high commission studying Pan American financial cooperation and proposing to terminate its work within a year, was opposed by the house and finally eliminated, the senate managers yielding.

Deadlocks on several amendments results in the conference. Among these, which are to be returned to the house for final disposition was the senate provision for recognition of Egypt and appointment of an American minister. The house conferees contended that this was new legislation on an appropriation measure which would have to be taken before the house.

EXPECT FIGHT TO DEVELOP AT MILWAUKEE

Morgan Has Forces Lined Up For Sharp Action at County Convention

BATTLE OVER CHAIRMAN

Attorney General Has Candidate to Oppose Barry, Mentioned For Place

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—A fight is expected at a meeting Wednesday night between the supporters of Attorney General William J. Morgan and his opponents when delegates from Milwaukee county are to be chosen to attend the republican state conference called by the committee of 44 to meet in Milwaukee June 1 at which candidates for U. S. Senator and a state ticket will be chosen to go before the primaries September 4.

Dr. W. E. Ganfield, president of Carroll college has been named to deliver the principal address at Wednesday night's meeting and is expected to outline the principles upon which the fight against radicalism in Wisconsin is to be based.

The meeting will be organized in the usual manner by the selection of a chairman and the appointment of various committees, the most important of which will be the resolutions committee.

Arthur R. Barry has been mentioned as chairman. It is understood that supporters of Attorney General Morgan for governor have a candidate for chairman and will attempt to elect him. It is also understood they will oppose the adoption of resolutions which fail to instruct the Milwaukee delegation for Mr. Morgan.

Supporters of Morgan assert that as the first candidate, subject to the action of the June conference, to come squarely before the people he has a right to expect support of the delegates from his own county, regardless of other candidates in seeming conflict. They assert it is the purpose of county conferences to elect delegates in support of candidates and that they have no other function or purpose.

Assertion is made by Morgan forces that every detail of the county conference organization has been arranged from selection of a chairman to membership of various committees. If this attempt to control the county conference is approved, the necessity for holding the conference is not apparent, it is said.

At state or county headquarters of the committee of 44 no comment was made on Mr. Morgan's charges of conspiracy it being said there the matter is entirely up to the county conference which will act as a majority of the delegates decide.

G. O. P. MEETINGS HELD WEDNESDAY

Select County Delegates for Citizens Conference at Milwaukee, June 1

By Associated Press
Madison—Meetings were held Wednesday in most counties of Wisconsin by local representatives of the Committee of Forty-four to select delegates for the Citizens' conference at Milwaukee, June 1. It is the intention of the central organization to have 998 delegates named, with representation from all parts of the state.

Local conditions in some sections are said to have caused a postponement of the meetings until a later time. In each instance, officers of the Committee of Forty-four are confident that the delegates will be chosen as appointed, and will attend the June meeting.

The move by Attorney General William J. Morgan to have delegations instructed by the local meetings has caused the first flurry in the ranks of the conference. He openly charged Milwaukee politicians with an attempt to control the entire June convention choosing "hand-picked" candidates with delegates named at a packed county meeting.

What effect the move by Attorney General Morgan, who is a candidate for governor, will have on the rest of the state is not yet evident. He expressed the belief that delegates to the Milwaukee meeting should be instructed by the county gathering Wednesday.

SHARP POLITICAL FIGHT ON FORDNEY RESOLUTION

By Associated Press
Washington—A sharp political fight developed Wednesday in the house over the Fordney resolution, authorizing a loan of $5,000,000 to the Republic of Liberia, first authorized in 1918 and urged now by the Harding administration.

The measure was taken up under an agreement for five hours of debate the house meeting an hour ahead of time so as to reach a vote late in the day.

Two of the republican members of the ways and means committee, which reported the resolution—Hawley of Oregon and Frear of Wisconsin, voted against it in committee along with the entire democratic membership.

Jeff Davis Was Captured 57 Years Ago Today

By Associated Press
Spencer, Ohio—Fifty-seven years ago Wednesday Jefferson Davis of the Confederate States was taken prisoner by the Fourth Michigan cavalry in an early morning surprise near Irwinsville, Ga.

Today, Thomas M. Hunter, 79 year old veteran of 73 civil war engagements, sat in an old arm chair on the front porch of his country home two miles from here and recounted reminiscences of that tragic period.

The president of the confederacy was not attired in feminine apparel when the troops surrounded his little encampment, asserts Veteran Hunter in a historical statement to the contrary notwithstanding.

"He wore a gentleman's morning robe over his regular clothes," said the aged soldier. "On his head was an old striped bonnet. He did not have on any women's belongings. There wasn't even any strings on his bonnet. He was a man sure enough."

RACINE PRIEST LOSSES IN SUIT

The Rev. Father J. B. Piette Ordered to Pay $16,000 in Trial for Slander

By Associated Press
Racine, Wis.—Damages amounting to $16,000 were awarded in the slander suit brought by Dennis Fitzgerald against the Rev. Father J. B. Piette, pastor of St. Rose catholic church, a sealed verdict being rendered by the jury and returned to the court Wednesday morning. The award is divided as follows:

Compensatory damages $12,000; punitive damages $4,000.

The attorneys for the defendant moved for judgment notwithstanding the verdict and were given until May 17 to make the motion and file a brief and the plaintiff was given until May 23 to file an answer.

The case grew out of statements alleged to have been made during church services by Father Piette in which he plaintiff charged his character had been slandered. Fitzgerald is a trustee of the church.

The performance was in the nature of final dress rehearsal and revealed individual and collective acting of such a high order that the pair's subsequent performances will not have occasion to regret their journey to this picturesque village.

Moreover, the peasants as hosts, as was demonstrated today, know how to make an army of tourists feel at home so far as physical comforts are concerned.

Anton Lang, who plays the role of the Nazarene for the third time, continues to be the outstanding figure in the cast. His voice is rich and mellow.

The role of Judas, as played by Guido Mayer, particularly invites comment. Somewhat suggestive of pantomime, his impersonation furnished one of the most conspicuous pieces of acting in the whole performance.

Hans Mayr, as Pilate and Martha Viets, as Mary Magdalene, complete the list of leading characters in the cast.

WOMEN MUST STAY IN JAIL DESPITE PARDON

The six women, sentenced for failing to obey a court order to discontinue picketing in a strike three years ago, took their children to jail with them. Two are to become mothers within a month.

PASSION PLAYS PRESENTED AGAIN

Bavarian Peasants Present Pageant After 12 Year Intermission

By Associated Press
Oberammergau, Bavaria—Wednesday's informal presentation of the Passion Play before an invited audience of official guests, among whom were several hundred German and foreign newspaper correspondents, gave evidence that the Bavarian peasants and players were not relaxing in devotion to their ancient vow and that the twelve year intermission had not strangled their appreciation of the simple art of their historic religious pageant.

The performance was in the nature of final dress rehearsal and revealed individual and collective acting of such a high order that the pair's subsequent performances will not have occasion to regret their journey to this picturesque village.

Year 1922 Will Show Surplus of $45,000,000 But in 1923 Government Will Run Half Billion Dollars Behind.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1922, by Post Pub. Co.

Washington—Secretary Mellon sees no immediate prospect of lowering the estimated deficit in government finances for 1923 of approximately $340,000,000 and gives the impression of fear that the deficit may be increased.

The secretary told this correspondent that his present estimate was based upon every available item of revenue that could be counted upon, including the possible payment of interest by the British government on its war debt.

The inquiry was prompted by rumors of new sources of revenue or increased taxation which might be counted upon to wipe out the 1923 deficit but the treasury anticipates none of such kind. It means that the state's budget for 1923 is a unit, about which a general debate has been precipitated in Congress, embraces only the fiscal year 1922. In a nutshell 1922 will show a surplus of $45,000,000 or thereabouts but 1923 will show a deficit which some officials think may pass the half billion dollar mark.

POLITICAL MOVE

The question is naturally asked why the government bookkeepers prefer a surplus this year and a big deficit next year. The answer is to be found in the demand of political members of Congress for ammunition to use in the autumn campaigns. They say frankly that 1923 can take care of itself—that something might happen to better the situation—but that 1922 is to be considered as a unit because the people will vote on the past record rather than future possibilities.

Considering 1922 as a unit, it is found that the surplus of $45,000,000 was obtained by postponing payment of practically $100,000,000 which must be paid in connection with government control of railroads, a settlement of which has been delayed. If the $100,000,000 had been paid this year, there would have been a deficit for 1922. The surplus therefore is accidental and treasury officials who are not interested in the politics of the situation reluctantly admit that the surplus is purely theoretical. They don't like to be in the position of contradicting Congressional statements but they cannot at the same time revise their previous declarations in which the figures of this year and next year were given to the public.

REAL SAVING TEST

When it comes down to estimates of saving, no official cares to comment on the practice which has grown up of regarding an estimated expenditure as the same class as an actual expenditure. Some estimates of government saving run as high as a billion dollars, it being contended that the executive departments wanted to spend larger sums than Congress would authorize. Many a business man counts as "saved" money he might have spent but on his books there is no actual money showing the economy. There are two schools of thought here. Some believe a reduction of estimated expenses can and should be treated as an economy. Others insist that it is only a paper saving and is not reflected in any reduced taxation for the rates this year are not appreciably lower than they were last year so that if a billion dollars was saved, the taxpayers didn't feel it and that the test of saving will be in the reduced taxation rather than in the bookkeeping.

STRICT ENFORCEMENT OF TRUCK WEIGHT LAW

By Associated Press
Madison—Enforcement of the automobile truck regulation law enacted by the 1921 legislature to classify and limit the weight of vehicles operated on Wisconsin highways, is to be vigorously enforced, Elmer S. Hall, secretary of state, announced today.

Truck owners are advised that they must have the weight without load, the actual advertised carrying capacity of the vehicle and the total weight of the vehicle and load, lettered on the side in plainly visible print. Failure to observe this provision of the statute subjects the owner and driver to a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $25 for each offense.

Two Policemen Killed and Another Wounded in Running Pistol Fight

BUILDINGS ARE DYNAMITED

Resentment at Enforcement of Landis Wage Award Cause of Trouble

By Associated Press
Chicago—Two policemen were shot and killed, another wounded and two buildings bombed early today in disorders police attributed to labor warfare. The shootings were followed by a running pistol fight in which the killers eluded police.

Charles C. Fitzmorris, chief of police, immediately ordered every policeman on duty and directed that all labor leaders of what so ever calibre be brought in. "I have ordered detention of every man who may have any information of the workings of labor attacks," he said.

Although the killings and bombings were in different parts of the city, police believe they were directed by a single band, desiring to express resentment at enforcement of the Landis wage award.

Since the labor war began thousands of dollars worth of property has been destroyed and scores of persons injured.

The police Wednesday raided the building trades headquarters and arrested three of Chicago's biggest labor leaders—"Big Tim" Murphy, Fred Mader and Cornelius Shea—in connection with bombing and shooting.

Murphy, known as Chicago's "labor czar" is out on bail after having been sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary in connection with the $400,000 union station mail robbery. Mader is president of the Building trades council while Shea heads the teamsters union. All records were seized.

Among twenty-three union members and officials arrested during the morning was John Rafferty, also charged with implication in the mail robbery with Murphy and an intimate friend of the latter's. Rafferty was identified by witnesses as a member of a squad which bombed many buildings early today and which it believed to have killed the policemen.

Chief of Police Fitzmorris, in ordering the arrest of Murphy, Mader, and Shea, issued the following statement:

"The slaughter of the two police officers while they were on duty is an inevitable result of tactics employed by Murphy, Mader and Shea. The bombings and murders early today culminated a series of disorders and charges of crookedness and graft which have been going on for some time. Recently the state's attorney's office conducted a special grand jury inquiry into the trials of various labor leaders who were not found guilty of graft, extortion, murder and other offenses although the state seemed to have clear cut cases. In one case a juror confessed that he was paid $1,000 to vote not guilty and that he was promised $1,000 for every juror he could persuade to vote the same way.

Judge Kickham Scanlon, in charging this grand jury, declared that labor in Chicago was ruled by gunmen, thugs and ex-convicts. He called on the city to rid itself of them or become "a race of yellow men."

Bombings during the past year have become so frequent that they no longer attract much attention unless accompanied by other violence. Numerous laborers who have attempted to return to work under the Landis award which was rejected by the trades unions after they agreed to accept it have been slugged.

DR. J. B. MOORE IS MAN BEHIND U. S. GOVERNING THRONE

His Advice Will Be Missed in Washington While He Serves on World Court

New York. — There is at least one man indispensable to Uncle Sam.

Every time Uncle Sam gets in a pickle he presses a button and says:

"Boy, page John Bassett Moore!"

And John Bassett Moore, who has been commuting between New York and Washington more than 30 years, hurries down and unravels the latest international tangle.

That's his job. He's a sort of legal family physician to Uncle Sam.

Dr. Moore's newest job is serving as one of 11 judges on the permanent court of international justice, the world court created by the League of Nations. He will sit at its organization at The Hague Jan. 30.

Official Washington would be greatly worried were it not that Moore will be back in a couple of months. His tenure of office as world judge is nine years but he will not be at The Hague all of the time.

U. S. CAN STILL USE HIM

This will make it possible for Uncle Sam to call on him for expert advice now and then.

Dr. Moore has served under six presidents: Cleveland, Harrison, McKinley, Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson.

He started off as a law clerk in the Department of State in 1885 and from 1886 to 1891 was third assistant secretary of state.

In 1891 he became professor of international law and diplomacy at Columbia University, but he has had so many leaves of absence so he could run down and straighten out the State Department that lots of students went through Columbia law school without encountering him.

McKinley made him an assistant secretary of state in 1898 and then sent him to Paris as counsel for the Spanish-American Peace Commission. In between he was a United States delegate to all kinds of international meetings and boards of arbitration. And in 1913 President Wilson made him counselor of the State Department.

MAN BEHIND THRONE

Official Washington whispered that Moore did most of the work of the department.

Anyway, precedent was upset two ways, for during Bryan's absences from Washington, Counselor Moore, instead of the first assistant, was acting as secretary of state and he frequently sat in cabinet meetings.

Dr. Moore is 61 years old. He is a big man physically. He wears a mustache and a full beard, neatly trimmed, sort of half-way between a flowing beard, and a Van Dyke. His hair is thin on top of his head. He wears eyeglasses.

He was born in Delaware and is a graduate of the University of Virginia. He is married and has three daughters.

COLLEGES HONOR HIM

So many degrees have been conferred upon him and he has been a member of so many international bodies and has written so many books that it requires two-thirds of a column in Who's Who to describe him.

He is still a member of the Permanent Court of The Hague, having been appointed in 1913 and has been a leading figure in the Pan-American Union.

Ponderous tomes are to his credit, a whole shelf of volumes on international law, arbitration and diplomacy.

In spite of these heavy subjects, Dr. Moore has the knack of making friends rapidly and his remarkable memory is not so cluttered with international facts and dates that he cannot remember funny stories and anecdotes.

RETAILERS DISCUSS COST REDUCTIONS

More than 60 retail dry goods merchants from this district of Retail Dry Goods association gathered at the Sherman house on Tuesday for round table discussions of the merchandising of their goods. The discussions centered around more efficient retailing with possible collective buying in order to have the same purchasing power as the chain stores. The discussion brought out the need for more service to the customers. The loss through lost motions and expensive operations was also discussed with a view to cutting down the operating cost and thus the cost of materials. Fond du Lac had the largest delegation present.

They are the Rev. William Dahlmann, Milwaukee, whose topic is "Bible Study," and the Rev. P. G. Prokopy, Milwaukee, speaking on "The Church and the League." The latter is assistant national executive secretary of the league.

Program and other convention details were completed at a meeting of the executive committee Tuesday evening. Final instructions will be given members of St. Paul Peoples society and Olive Branch society of St. Paul Lutheran and Mount Olive Evangelical churches respectively, at a joint meeting in St. Paul school hall Wednesday evening.

The first convention session is to be at 2:45 Saturday afternoon, opening with a devotional service and an address of welcome by the Rev. T. J. Sauer, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran church. Business matters then will be taken up, including appointment of resolutions, nominating and auditing committee and naming of a reporter for the Messenger, official publication of the Walther League. Reports will be presented by the president, treasurer, field secretary, missionary secretary, special committee on boys' work, hospice and girls' home. Sale of Christmas seals for the sanatorium at Wheatridge, Colo., will be summarized and the credentials committee will make its report. The address by the Rev. Mr. Dahlmann follows.

Can't Tell Where Girl Is Working By What She Eats

Restaurant Waitresses Are Keen Students of Human Nature

"You can't tell by what a woman eats, where she works or how much money she is getting."

So say the waitresses and owners of restaurants in Appleton in answer to a query on the sort of food which stenographers buy for their meals. The whole story came about because a reporter who is a veritable "little pitcher with big ears" overheard some men talking about what stenographers eat commenting with many sighs that they would hate to marry one of them if she fed them that way.

"What way?" asked the reporter of the waitresses and found that the men are merely theorizing again. But women like men have their peculiarities in restaurants as the discussion brought out.

DON'T STINT ON FOOD

"We have no way of telling clerks from stenographers here," said E. H. Wright at the College Inn. But I will say that most of the women who eat here have well regulated meals. We have comparatively few orders to be especially prepared from women. No, they do not stint themselves as far as money goes, either. Another thing which I have noticed is that very few Appleton people eat their heaviest meal at night although we thought when we first came here that light lunches would go better at noon."

"Women eat dainty things more than men do," said Claude Snider of Snider's restaurant. "But they do not spend less for their meals. I do not believe that we have many girls in the city who are saving on food that they may spend the money for clothes. Women naturally take to salads and sandwiches, but they do eat enough."

"Women have certain favorite orders," said one of the waiters at the Baltimore lunch. "Now, we have one school teacher who always orders poached eggs on toast. I know as soon as she opens the door, just what she is going to ask for."

"Say, why don't you ask us what the college kids eat?" queried a waitress in another shop. "It's always the same: breaded veal cutlet, French fried potatoes, hot rolls, a glass of milk. The desserts vary sometimes. And the way they come in at 11 o'clock and order toast and coffee, I never can make out whether they are eating breakfast or lunch."

LIKES BAKED POTATO

"Women certainly are funny about their eating," said another waitress, "but I don't know the stenographers from the rest of them. Now, there's one who always wants a baked potato. Then, there are two who buy an order of toast and divide it. The college students do that more than any others. They order French fried potatoes and divide them among three of them. Say, you never could eat some of the meals those girls pick out for themselves."

One restaurant man evidently has been through the college appetite stage himself for he said: "Yes, the college students do eat rather queer meals but that is because they order here what they do not get at the dormitories. This is a typical college girl order: lettuce salad with mayonnaise dressing, a glass of milk, sweet rolls and strawberry shortcake."

Judging from the way in which the waitresses tell of their customers' small idiosyncrasies, one would say that the "dear public" in general has little appreciation of the way in which they are being given "the once over." Most of the waitresses have keen senses of humor and really enjoy watching people as they come and go.

NO CONTAGION HERE, CITY PHYSICIAN SAYS

Appleton is comparatively free from contagion according to Dr. W. C. Felton, city physician, who said only one case of scarlet fever and one case of mumps has been reported to him this month. While many persons are suffering from colds there is no influenza so far as he is aware.

Dr. Felton said there were no new developments in the controversy over his office so far as he knew. He was elected to his position by the common council which accepted his credentials and matters pertaining to the health department are being functioned through his office, he said.

E. A. Walthers has purchased a lot on the south side of Second-st. from Stanley Stegman on which he intends to erect a residence which he will occupy.

WHY NOT MR. WILCOX?

It seems that after all the movement of the chaste and undefiled Committee of Forty-four to repair the blunders of orthodox Republicanism two years ago is under more than suspicion. If what Attorney-General Morgan says is true, it is open to inspection by the health department on hygienic and sanitary grounds. Indeed, it seems to have degenerated into a scramble by politicians to control its affairs in the interest of some faction or figurehead.

Our good friend Mr. M. W. Perry of Algoma will read Attorney-General Morgan's announcement with sadness and mortification. But it is not his fault, for he had the Committee of Forty-four confined to a spiritual race track and committed to the creed of christian endeavor. Politicians were entirely excluded from the course. They might be permitted to look at the race from the fence rail but they would not be allowed to climb over and enter the enclosure. Moreover, the women were to patrol the track to preserve the moral tone of the meet. Under no circumstances was the race to be "fixed." It was to be an honest-to-goodness free-for-all and the best horse to win.

Alas, the virtuous plans have all miscarried. Professionals, jockeys, fixers and touters have stampeded onto the field. Everything is in excitement. It's going to be a great race but the winner is to be hand-picked. Mr. Morgan has the dope. He has discovered the secret meeting places in Milwaukee, reached by back stairs, and concealed in unfrequented rooms. Here the forces of iniquity have met and are planning to raid the convention for former Lieutenant-Governor Dithmar, erstwhile courier of the Non-Partisan League, La Follette and the rest of the radicals. Mr. Morgan fears this fell plot will be put over, that Milwaukee will dominate the convention.

When shall the sophisticated cease to be gullible? Is politics not politics? Or, are they not, as you may prefer? And is not what Milwaukee is charged by Mr. Morgan with doing all a part of the game? Of course it is, and there can be no offense about it. There is likely to be just as much politics in the June convention as there ever was in the old-time conventions, with faction arrayed against faction, figure-head against figure-head. In that case it will be a survival of the luckiest and the devil take the hindmost. The only way it can be prevented is for the independent citizenry of the state to come forward and assert itself.

Who could possibly conceive of Mr. Dithmar's being the Moses to lead the children out of the desert — the compromise candidate to weld all factions together into a harmonious whole? Yet if Mr. Morgan knows whereof he speaks it is Milwaukee's purpose to force him on the convention, and thus make sure the reelection of Governor Blaine.

We had hoped this would be a meeting of contrite sinners, seeking forgiveness and choosing the path to returning righteousness. Evidently the Milwaukee bosses do not so understand it. How they interpret it in the rest of the state can be better told after the "primaries" today.

To come down to earth, why not forget about the convention, use a little common sense and nominate Roy Wilcox for governor? Mr. Wilcox made an altogether remarkable run two years ago, would have been elected by a handsome plurality had Philipp and Seaman kept to their kennels and is an outstanding figure in point of ability and fitness. It seems to us he is entitled to consideration by reason of the sacrifices he cheerfully made in 1920. If the Republican party really wants to get back to normalcy in Wisconsin and install stable government at Madison it could do no better than renominate Mr. Wilcox. All of which is said without prejudice to Mr. Morgan, who is a good man and a good fighter, but who may be stirring up the animals a bit too much.

BUSINESS DIPLOMACY

While Premier Lloyd George has been struggling mightily at Genoa with the Russian diplomatic problem, British capitalists have been struggling just as mightily with the Russian business problem. And they have won, quickly and notably.

The great "shell group" of petroleum interests, dominated by English brains and capital, has negotiated a contract with the soviet government whereby the former obtains a concession for marketing Russian oil, and becomes the partner of the soviet government, on a fifty-fifty profit basis. The agreement includes the famous old fields at Baku, on the Caspian. Though it has been denied that this deal is actually consummated, there is excellent authority for believing that it has gone through and that official acknowledgment is merely delayed for political effect.

Thus, whatever else may happen, British interests seem to have obtained already the richest business prize that Russia had to offer. Petroleum today is the material resource most sought after by all nations, particularly the big powers, because of the value of gasoline and fuel oil in modern industry and warfare. The Standard Oil company was at Genoa, too, competing for the prize, but lost out.

Whether the successful British interests had the direct support of their government in their negotiations is not clear, but presumably they had. British government and business usually go hand in hand. The effect of this move will not be lost on American business and the American government. Though there are no other Russian business opportunities so rich, there are others very desirable.

STILL ON THE RHINE

The United States is to keep its Watch on the Rhine after all. Washington reports say that the war department will not bring the last regiment of infantry home as it planned to do, but has canceled the sail orders and will keep a force of 1,000 or more there for the present.

"Unforeseen developments" is the explanation. Present conditions in Europe are very unsettled. There is no certainty as to what will happen in the way of German reparations payments. French punitive action and other grave problems. The American troops are not committed to any policy, and are not expected to be drawn into action in any conceivable situation, but the government thinks it best to keep them there for observation purposes and for the moral effect of their presence.

The latter consideration is doubtless the most important of all. All of the principal allies and Germany, too, have urged our government to let a small American contingent remain. The allies take it as a sign of continued friendship and Germany frankly declares that she would rather have American troops on the Rhine than those of any other nation. The American soldiers themselves are said to be delighted to stay. So everybody is happy, except perhaps an occasional "isolation" extremist here and there in America. How different than Warren G. Harding anticipated when he was running for president!

TROTSKY DISLIKES THE OLD TERMS

Leon Trotsky, soviet war minister, speaks, and, as we think of his red army of a million men, we conclude that, although he does not express the views of the people of Russia, he states the policy of the government. For Trotsky and his radicals are the government, which is communistic because the arms of the soldiers rule it.

Trotsky reaffirms the theories of possessive property, nationalization, and socialistic industrialism. He declares that Russia will adhere to these ideas. Chitcherlin talks of disarmament at the Genoa conference. Trotsky keeps a million reds under arms to impose the arbitrary opinions of the radical minority on an oppressed and suffering majority. It has been well said that the soviet is not only incompetent, but cannot be trusted or believed.

THE GREAT LIVER FICTION

Doctors are nearly as gullible as people. You would be surprised, and I do not mean to surprise you, to know how many second rate physicians still betray their patients by ordering or prescribing concoctions of which they, the physicians, know nothing except the vague and often false information the exploiters of the concoctions impart. Some of these second raters who use their patients in this shameless way are popularly regarded as great specialists or physicians; some of them are professors in medical college and noted authors of medical textbooks. I say doctors are about as gullible as folks.

Some doctors still tacitly approve if they do not actually prescribe the use of calomel as a cathartic. Long ago, before the era of physiology and before the invention of modern instruments of precision, there was a general belief that calomel had some special effect on the liver, that it stimulated the secretion or flow of bile, and that it was therefore a good remedy in all sorts of cases in which a "torpid" or inactive liver was fancied to be an important feature. The few doctors who now sanction the use of calomel as a cathartic endeavor to support their practice by ascribing to calomel some other effect, such as a "fascinating" action on the intestines—all of which is insignificant. Doctors or folks who use calomel today as a cathartic use it because they imagine it increases the secretion or flow of bile, which it certainly does not do.

Mind you, I am not referring to the prescribing of calomel as a remedy against syphilis—it is the form of mercury which is most satisfactory in certain cases of syphilis.

I am a staunch believer in the efficacy of drugs when I am sick myself, but I want my medicines intelligently prescribed. I flatter myself that I know the value, actions and effects of medicines as well as a really good doctor does. But I am sorry for the child whose parents believe in calomel as a physic. I am sorry for the layman who harbors the notion that a "torpid liver" accounts for a torpid feeling. I am sorry for the woman who deludes herself that a sallow complexion indicates an inactive liver. I am sorry for the person that attributes so-called "liver spots" to some vague trouble with the liver. I am sorry for everybody that has swallowed an almanac without masticating the pages carefully. I fear my sorrow will get my liver out of order.

Calomel is by no means the only drug which purports to increase or improve the action of the liver in some desirable way. The woods are full of weeds or herbs to which some such effects are fondly ascribed, with profit to the pill makers but no particular pleasure to the pill takers so far as I have ever been able to ascertain. All of these so-called liver pills or tablets, be they vegetable or mineral products, might do some good if fed judiciously to the sharks—the sea sharks, I mean.

Tho it may seem strange to the unenlightened reader, nevertheless it is the scientific truth that one may more certainly increase the action of the lungs by means of medicine than be can the action of the liver.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Flaxseed

Kindly tell me how to take whole flaxseeds for constipation, as you recommended recently.—(Mrs. C. A. R.)

Answer—Take from one to three spoonfuls of raw whole flaxseeds daily, either washed down with water or other beverages, or mixed with your breakfast cereals when you are ready to eat the cereal.

Hair and I Fall Out

Is it no good for the hair to have it bobbed? I mean will it not make the hair grow in more luxuriantly? Mother says it does not, but she is willing to abide by your advice. Please, Doctor, say yes and make me your friend for life.—(Hazel.)

Answer—This is certainly hard luck for me, Hazel, but I am bound to say that mother is right. From all reports—and I've had a saddening lot of them from victims of the craze—bobbing rather makes the hair worse than it ever was before.

Gassing Father

My father who is 80 years old has excellent eyesight and sits and reads for two or three hours every day in a little den we have fixed for him. In this den there is a small gas stove. Please tell me whether any injurious effect might arise from burning gas in a small closed room. Lately he has complained of loss of his usual ambition.—(A. O. S.)

Answer—If the gas stove has a pipe connecting it with the chimney or leading out doors, to carry off the products of combustion, it is all right. If there is no such provision it cannot fail to injure your father's health.

Recipe for Seasickness

Please give your recipe for seasickness.—(H. K. G.)

Answer—Take three large or hospital size meals, one medium sized boat, one berth close to the engine, and stir well. For relief or prevention of seasickness, send SAE with your request, for reply by mail.

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

A CONGRESS OF NEW WORLD WOMEN

"It has been for some time a growing feeling whether man does indeed rule this world or whether the back stage direction is in the hands of the women," and in this discussion the DETROIT NEWS grants to each man "his own opinion in line with his own experience," but it suggests that further light on the subject is to be found in the Pan-American Conference of the National League of Women Voters just adjourned at Baltimore.

Here was gathered, a Baltimore writer tells us, "representatives from twenty-three nations, chosen because of proved ability and of disinterested work on some topic which is a matter of public concern in their own countries." The meeting was "a Pan-American conference of women, not of women suffragists," the NEW YORK POST reminds us, for among the guests of the American women voters "were not a few South American delegates doubtful of suffrage or flatly opposed to it." In none of the South American countries is there equal suffrage, but, the POST continues:

"There are vigorous suffrage movements in Chile, Argentina, and Uruguay, with suffrage organizations in all three, and their principal basis is the belief that women are taking in the economic life. In Buenos Aires, for example, almost 200,000 women are employed in the trades or professions; in Montevideo the suffragist leader is a distinguished woman doctor and university teacher."

While "women as a whole have not been overzealous to use their political enfranchisement," the BALTIMORE AMERICAN thinks that the lesson this Pan-American conference teaches is "that an increasing number of them are responding to the appeal and guidance of competent and disinterested women leaders."

For this reason the ST. LOUIS POST DISPATCH considers it of the greatest importance that those leaders shall not be, to use the phrase of the president of the organized American women voters, "all dressed up and nowhere to go." In order that the exercise of political rights may exercise their power and influence for the welfare of themselves and all the people," the POST DISPATCH insists that "they should study not only the practical issues and the measures which are brought up for decision and the methods by which political power may be exercised effectively, but the basic principles of republican institutions and the proper functions of government."

This, however, is precisely what newly enfranchised women are doing, through their organizations, the SCHENECTADY GAZETTE observes, for while "men take their politics by nature," women are "studying parliamentary law and already know more about the conduct of public business than men." Not, "in ones and twos but by dozens and hundreds in every part of the country." In the last "normal woman" is studying political and social problems to a degree that is taken up only by "the exceptional man."

But the NEW YORK WORLD finds evidence in the Baltimore convention that the women, or some of them at least, are nevertheless taking a leaf from the masculine political creed. "The agitation by an element of the delegates to the convention of the League of Women Voters for more officers and less warfare was a symptom of considerable interest to mere male observers," it suggests, for after all, it asks, is a policy of "spoils hunting" on the part of woman voters "materially different from the aspirations of Tammany or of the Philadelphia Republican machine?" Practical politics "is practical politics, whether in women's leagues or in party organizations," and if a group of women voters exists "to obtain more offices for women," the WORLD warns it "it must resort to the methods by which organizations of male voters obtain offices," and "must strain, if it does not sacrifice, its ideals of public services."

However, this is only the domestic side of the meeting which was held in Baltimore. Its wider, international and world-wide interest is in the editorial writers and from this aspect the BALTIMORE SUN declares that "the Pan-American Conference is already recognized as of historic and international importance, as the first chapter is a volume of world-wide significance." It takes the first step, the PHILADELPHIA P. U. R. I. C. LEDGER adds, "toward national friendship in establishing informal personal contacts between the women of each other, and the country of their citizenship will gain by what they have heard and seen and felt in their convocation," for, as the MANCHESTER UNION says, "they are, perhaps unconsciously, becoming larger minded."

Certainly "the Baltimore conference has established the fact that women in both the Americas are keenly, directly, interested in the world's problems," the SEATTLE TIMES believes for while "the laws under which they live may differ, their ancestry may be diverse and their economic position dissimilar," yet "the women of the new world nations find their greatest inspiration in the home and their greatest problems in the marriage relation, in the children and there may be tremendous significance in an agreement among the delegates from all the Americas on their problems of marriage and divorce, family property, the sex in industry and child labor," thus "forcing upon reluctant man a realization that women everywhere are in agreement on vital fundamental principles which are as important as the issues he regards as paramount."

As a synthetic, synthetic ground work on which to build, Pan-American Women should, the WASHINGTON POST thinks, "expect a tremendous effect in bringing the countries of this hemisphere in closer harmony, politically, industrially and in every other way," for, as the DENVER ROCKY MOUNTAIN NEWS says, "the Baltimore conference was but the beginning."

OPPOSES PASSPORT VISA

London—An organized effort to bring about abolition of the passport visa has been initiated by the Evening News which says that irritation against the useless visa is growing among business men, whose hopes of a trade revival centres largely on Continental orders, which necessitate visits abroad.

The annoyance is none the less to would-be travelers, now that the holiday season is approaching. They know only too well the wasted time and money necessary to secure the visa of several countries.

Great Britain is the impediment to the removal of the visa. Sir W. Martin Conway, M. P., told The Evening News:

"The fault," he said, "does not lie with the Home Office—it is purely and simply the Home Office and the police. They are preventing the abolition of the visa because it saves them some trouble."

"In exceptional circumstances exceptional facilities are provided for some branch of the Government service, and when normal times return they try to retain those facilities because it saves them trouble."

"The Swiss Government has more than once proposed that the visa should be abolished between its own citizens and those of Great Britain, France, Holland, Belgium, Norway, Sweden, and Denmark; but the Swiss Minister of Justice has declared that Great Britain is the impediment."

"I observe today," commented Sir Martin Conway, "that Switzerland has decided to take a one-sided action in abolishing the visa on British passports, thus falling into line with Belgium and France."

Retention of the passport Sir Martin Conway thinks is necessary, as it bears an authenticated photograph of the person, stating who he is, and when he is in the country, and his period of life might, however, be extended, he thinks.

"If Great Britain would take the initiative in removing its own visa restrictions," he says, "I feel other countries would do likewise."

The public should clearly understand the difference between a passport and a visa.

That some countries make money out of the visa is obvious. Bulgaria charges £1, Denmark £1, Germany £2 for 6 months, Rumania £2, and the United States 10 dollars plus 1 dollar transit visa and 8 dollars head-tax.

In order to get from London to Constantinople it is necessary to obtain visas from the various Consulates of Italy, Serbia, Bulgaria, Greece and Turkey—France and Switzerland have abolished the visa—and the resultant cost is £2 2s and possibly several days' wasted time.

An official at the Passport Office to day said that 1,000 British passports are issued daily, and there was no delay whatever in obtaining them.

In urgent cases a passport can be issued in fifteen minutes, and an average of 200 are so issued daily.

The visa, however, was another matter, and had to be dealt with by the individual country concerned.

30,000 FRENCH KILLED IN HOUR

Former Prime Minister Painleve has published some interesting articles in the REVUE DE PARIS giving a detailed description of the Allied last day fight between Tiberius and the Germans on the 16th of April, 1917 under General Nivelle's command. Painleve was at that time Prime Minister, but the plans for the battle were completed when he took over his office.

"The plans for the attack, which was to be the great Anglo-French offensive of 1917, had been worked out by General Nivelle, who had succeeded Joffre at Christmas 1916 as Commander in Chief," says Painleve.

"At that time they were beginning to change the 'Somme-School' which had been practised by Foch and Haig and which consisted in not allowing the infantry to go beyond the lines where the enemy's defenses were and then to be killed by the enemy's machine guns and artillery. Nivelle represented the new school, the 'Verdun-School' which demand a quicker and more energetic pushing forward of the infantry. He had tried the method a few months before at Waux and Douaumont, and had been successful. He was considered as the man of the future, Foch and Patain were regarded as out-of-date. So he took over the whole charge of the Anglo-French offensive of 1917."

"In order that the troops should be just as optimistic as himself, he sent fully worked out details of the plan of attack, the time, the place, etc. to all the officers. This happened in January. A fortnight after, the Germans had precise information on the subject. Ludendorff tells in his memoirs that a German patrol found the whole plan of attack in the pocket of a French captain who had fallen. In other words Ludendorff had two months to arrange his counter attack."

"The 16 April came. The weather, which had been bad in the last days, turned quite in the enemy's favor. In an hour the battle was decided and more than 30,000 Frenchmen were killed or severely wounded. It was the most terrible massacre which has ever taken place. Some of the French black troops among whom death had raged wildly, gave in and rushed back in terrible disorder, getting into a hospital train and thus paralyzing the whole hospital service. The French troops had fought splendidly, but their position was hopeless from the beginning, and the defeat made them feel that their lives had been recklessly played with. It took the whole remainder of the year to recover the morale among the troops and to gain what had been lost in one hour. It was now Foch's turn."

NO TIME TO CUT PACE

To the Editor of the Post-Crescent:—

At the last meeting of the common council a resolution was offered for the reduction of salaries of firemen and policemen. It seems peculiar that the minds of the members of the common council should be so easily diverted to the channels of reduction when it was so hard to divert them to the channels of an increase, but its natural force to follow the lines of least resistance. If I recollect the firemen and policemen remained loyal to the taxpayers and lived on promises and promissory notes when they were enjoying the peak of high wages and now when they are enjoying anything near a living wage effort is launched to reduce salaries. I think "the shoe on the other fellows foot would pinch" if he were asked to jump out of a warm bed at night and live in fire and water for a little while—just a little while—or if he were asked to leave his family and friends and trod the streets on a cold and dreary night to protect a home from intrusion or fire or possibly wrestle around in the snow to protect some "dorellet on the sands of time" from a death that would be sure to result.

Gentlemen be fair, the vast majority of taxpayers never complained of paying taxes to maintain an efficient fire and police department, which we now have, but the majority would welcome a reduction does not directly effect a living wage. A better resolution would have been to place the fire companies back in their old houses: Lets protect the Fourth ward and drop this idea of centralization of government, which is socialistic in origin and not representative, nor practical nor applicable. Lets hope the Fire and Police commission will see the light and be willing to abide by the old maxim "Live and let live."

THE ISOLATION HOSPITAL

Editor, Post-Crescent—In Saturday's Post-Crescent an article appeared, presumably from our Mayor wherein he suffered untold pain and agony in finding upon an exhaustive and thorough examination of the isolation hospital, dust on the floor and two rusty old iron beds in the basement. Had he taken the trouble to ask the deputy health officer or myself about what he found he probably would not have been in such great haste to rush into print.

In the first place dust will accumulate in any house when not in use and it would be folly to clean the floors every week or so when not expected to be used. The floors and everything else for that matter are cleaned before any patient is taken there and without any expense to the city either.

Now as to the two rusty iron beds, steads and springs. They do not belong to the equipment of the hospital, never were used and never were intended to be used, they are merely an outcast of the city home, brought there probably by some inmate who insisted on keeping them though valueless. So much for the beds and springs.

Everything, such as quilts, blankets and sheets are kept clean and as we wanted them kept—always properly aired and fresh when used. Anybody liable to "heart failure" should not allow themselves to go unattended in such places.

Even though the door was unlocked nobody will enter a "pesthouse," there is no fear of that. I fail to see any deplorable affair and feel that the department of health has been and will be carried on in a most efficient manner, the mayor's interference notwithstanding.

I am still the health officer of the city of Appleton and propose to attend to the duties thereto for some time to come.

H. E. ELLSWORTH,
Health Officer.
Appleton, Wis., May 8, 1922.

College Students Gather On Steps of Main Hall for Hour of Melody

The first all college sing of the spring season took place on the steps of Main hall at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening under the direction of Miss Vera Chamberlain. These hours for singing in the twilight are planned by Tau Tau Kappa, honorary fraternity for men and women, at the college.

The program is very informal, consisting of the favorite college songs and some popular numbers. The Campus Serenaders, an orchestra made up largely of college students, accompanied the singers. Chief among the popular numbers were "Wabash Blues," and "Bow Bow Blues."

A large number of the students attended the sing and left in couples to go walking in the "wonderful moonlight." Anyone coming near the campus as the crowd was disbarring would have thought that all Lawrence was out "dating."

Each event will give the winner a certain number of points. The sportsmanship committee is to be strict in observing that girls are good losers and courteous to their opponents. A funny event is to feature the afternoon races called a suit case race. Another special number is the song writing and song singing contest. The efforts of the scouts are being redoubled this year since the banner was awarded to the camp fire group last year.

Mr. and Mrs. George Deml. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blanger and Miss Catherine Henry were in Oshkosh on Tuesday.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

A Trying Period through which Every Woman Must Pass

Practical Suggestions Given by the Women Whose Letters Follow

Phila., Pa.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I was weak, nervous, dizzy and had headaches. I was troubled in this way for two years and was hardly able to do my work. My friends advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am very sorry that I did not take it sooner. But I have got good results from it and am now able to do my housework most of the time. I recommend your medicine to those who have similar troubles. I do not like publicity, but if it will help other women I will be glad for you to use my letter."—Mrs. FANNIE ROSENSTEIN, 882 N. Holly Street, Phila., Pa.

The critical time of a woman's life usually comes between the years of 45 and 50, and is often beset with annoying symptoms such as nervousness, irritability, melancholia. Heat flashes or waves of heat appear to pass over the body, cause the face to be very red and often bring on headache, dizziness and a sense of suffocation.

Another annoying symptom which comes at this time is an inability to recall names, dates or other small facts. This is liable to make a woman lose confidence in herself. She becomes nervous, avoids meeting strangers and dreads to go out alone.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women at this time. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system, and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. Let it help carry you through this time of life. It is a splendid medicine for the middle-aged woman. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics.

Detroit, Michigan—"During the Change of Life I had a lot of stomach trouble and was bothered a great deal with hot flashes. Sometimes I was not able to do any work at all. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in your little books and took it with very good results. I keep house and am able now to do all my own work. I recommend your medicine and am willing for you to publish this testimonial."—Mrs. J. S. LIVENOIS, 2051 Junction Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

H. S. PROM PROVES ELABORATE EVENT

Opera House is Attractively Decorated for Biggest Party of Year

Special to The Post-Crescent
New London—The junior prom, the party looked forward to for months by the high school students as the culminating social event of the school year was held Friday evening, May 5, in the Grand opera house.
The parquet which had been cleared for dancing never looked more attractive. Paper streamers from the center of the hall to the balcony rail and the walls of the room formed a rainbow tinted canopy above the dancers. Festoons of flowers hanging from its edges proclaimed the arrival of spring. Lattice work decorated with gayly colored blossoms formed a cozy little alcove at each side of the room, and in one corner, behind a screen of flowers, Louis Bacon and Genevieve Schantz served punch to the guests. An electric fountain surrounded by ferns played in the center of the floor.
The guests were received by a committee composed of Superintendent and Mrs. D. Newberry, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Zerrner, and Mr. and Mrs. Hiltner. The Crimson orchestra of Ripon college, five male students, played for the dancing. The grand march was led by Miss Eleanor Vaughn, president of the Junior class, and Edward Miller.
One hundred twenty dance numbers were sold, bringing the total receipts of the evening to nearly $250.

HORTONVILLE AND DALE COW-TESTING CLUB ENDS YEAR

Clair Earle's Herd Wins Highest Honors—Guy Blondevy Has Profitable Cows

The Dale and Hortonville Cow Testing association has finished its first year of successful cow testing. According to the annual report submitted by L. W. Glocke, secretary and Olin A. Minarik, tester, 450 cows were tested during the year.

Of these 450 cows, 45 were sold for beef, 12 for dairying and 12 disposed of otherwise. Eight cows died. Two pure bred Guernsey and six pure bred Holstein herd sires were purchased last year. In the 26 herds on test there was but one grade sire. There are 36 cows in the association producing 365 pounds of butterfat, an equivalent of 456 pounds of butter. Twenty-two of these cows have records of 400 pounds and over.

The average feed cost per 100 pounds of milk of all herds in the association was $4.95. The average cost for butterfat was $217. Silage was charged at an average rate of $7 a ton, stover at $6, hay at $18 and grain mixtures at current prices. The average price received for butterfat was about 42 cents.

High herd honors were won by Clair Earle of Medina. He has a herd of grade Holstein cows with a milk production of 11,317 pounds, average test 3.31, 374.6 pounds of butterfat and average feed cost of $4.94 per 100 pounds of milk and $1.95 per pound of butterfat.

The second high herd honors go to Hugo Tolzman of Hortonville, whose herd of 13 of pure bred grade Guernseys produced an average of 62.34 pounds of milk, with an average test of 5.70 average butterfat production of 36.71 pounds, equivalent to 458.7 pounds of butter. The average feed cost was $4.95 for every 100 pounds of milk and $1.72 per pound of butterfat.

Bess, a grade Guernsey, owned by G. O. Blondevy, New London, carried off the highest honors of all cows in the associations. Bess freshened April 3, 1921, carried a calf 256 days of her testing period and became dry March 1, 1922, being on test 331 days. Her milk production was 9,786 pounds and her average test 5.45 per cent. She produced 533.6 pounds of butterfat, equivalent to 667 pounds of butter. She was on pasture 169 days and was fed 6,150 pounds of silage, 1,106 of clover and timothy hay and 920 pounds of chaff and stover. She was fed six pounds of the Wisconsin balanced ration daily. She was also fed six pounds grain ration daily while she was in pasture. This record would indicate that that it pays to feed concentrates while in pasture.

The cost of roughage for Bess was $36.20; cost of grain mixture, $34.06; total cost of feed $70.25. The value of her product at an average price of $5.11 per pound of butterfat was $287.04. The income above the cost of feed was $166.83. The return for every dollar spent for feed was $3.37. Feed cost for every pound of butterfat was $1.31. The feed cost for 100 pounds of milk was $5.45.

Pearl, a grade Guernsey, also owned by G. O. Blondevy, took second honors. Pearl freshened Oct. 10, 1920 and Nov. 9, 1921, being in milk 222 days of the testing period. Her milk production was 8,366 pounds, average test 5.53, pounds butterfat 430.2, or 617 pounds of butter per cent. She was on pasture 149 days and was fed the same rations as Bess, her stable mate. Cost of roughage was $48.00; cost of grain $43. The value of product was $197.17, leaving a profit of $106.17 above the cost of feed.

A drawback in the association last winter was a shortage of hay. It is reported. With the prospects of good hay year and plenty of pasture, the members look for a successful year.

Here are averages made by the 26 herds in the association:

NEENAH CIVIC SOCIETY GOES OUT OF EXISTENCE

The Neenah Civic association, organized in February, 1921, dissolved last week. Lack of public support is given as the chief cause for this action. By preventing fake stock promotion schemes, the association is known to have saved the community at least $22,000 during the last year.

Wounded War Veteran Asks "Y" For Work

Who can give this veteran of the World war the special job he needs in order to earn himself a living? A young man who was gassed and has lost use of one lung, has returned to the city after extensive treatment for his war wounds and has asked C. L. Boynton, employment secretary of the Y. M. C. A., to assist him in finding work.

The man is an expert bookkeeper but cannot be inside too much of the time. He seeks a place where part of his time will be devoted to outside work in addition to bookkeeping such as collecting or timekeeping. Mr. Boynton is anxious to assist the veteran and will be glad to hear from anyone having such employment.

With the calls for help and the number of vacancies about equal in most lines, Mr. Boynton is devoting more attention to vocational qualifications of men seeking work. He is trying to place them in work they are fitted for so their jobs will be permanent.

A letter received from the Y. M. C. A. at Detroit, Mich., offers work to 200 men skilled in various trades and crafts. The letter says there are more jobs than men for the time.

NEAR EAST WORKER SPEAKS AT CHURCH

Arthur C. Ryan Will Address Congregational Audience Thursday Night

Arthur C. Ryan is to speak on "Diplomacy, War and Religion in the Near East" at 8:15 Thursday evening at the school of missions of the First Congregational church. This gathering is open to the public and it is expected that many will wish to hear a man with the experiences he has passed through.

Mr. Ryan recently returned from Constantinople, where he has had charge of the work for the American Bible society for three years. He previously was for many years a missionary under the American Board of Missions in the interior of Asia Minor.

The speaker assisted in the Liberty loan drive in this country during the war, when it was impossible to do missionary work in his region. He spoke in Lawrence Memorial chapel here during that time. Since then he has been in Constantinople.

Probably no class of people actually know the people in their homes, especially away from the trading centers so well as the resident missionaries. Mr. Ryan therefore has had unique opportunities both at the Turkish capital and in the interior to know the facts of the most critical and baffling political tangle in the world at the present time.

SCOUTS PREPARING FOR BIG MEET IN OSHKOSH

Great preparations are being made by the Boy Scouts in Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Ripon, Fond du Lac and Oshkosh to attend the big meet which will take place in Oshkosh on June 3. Each of the towns is expecting to send a large delegation.

The meet will include competitive drill, semaphore signalling, international Morse signalling, first aid and bandaging, fire by friction, knot tying relay, wall scaling and original stunts. Each troop will be permitted to enter one team for each event. No one scout may enter more than five events.

FURS AND MYSTERY

By A. CARSTENSEN

APPLETON'S FURRIER

This is not the first honest story about the mole. In numerous passages of the Bible this little animal is mentioned in an interesting and impressive manner.

From that good day to this, many things have been perpetrated in the name of the tiny excavator of tunnels and builder of hills, that would not look well in print.

For example, a large percentage of the "mole-skins" found in today's market comes from an animal many times the size of the busy little mole—namely, the muskrat.

This fur, when sheared, makes an unusually good imitation of the real thing, and is, therefore, a treacherous substitute in the hands of an unscrupulous dealer.

In nine cases out of ten, he will get the price of the genuine, which is fairly costly because of the tininess of the skins, and the difficulty with which they are caught, while the customer gets the imitation.

Were you to enter his shop with a request for genuine mole-skin and have the genuine placed before you, at its fair price, and then the substitute, as a substitute, mind you, at its proper figure—then all would be well, and this article need never have been written. But the time has not yet come when all stores, or even a fair percentage of them, will do this, so one still must be keenly on one's guard.

Genuine mole-skins are of a bluish black and are no longer or broader than one's hand. The majority of them come from Scotland, while Holland adds smaller collections to the annual supply.

Muskrat skins range up to 15 inches in length and are extremely plentiful in all parts of this country and Canada. You can readily see, therefore, that the margin of illegitimate profits is no small item.

Besides muskrat, there are poorer substitutes for mole-skin, such as rabbit, which in turn can be sold to you as muskrat imitation, if not as the mole-skin itself.

BEWARE OF THE WOLF IN SHEEP'S CLOTHING

JOHNS DECIDES HE WILL NOT GET INTO CONGRESS RACE

Marinette Prosecutor Tosses Hat in Ring—Graess Still is Silent

The withdrawal of one possibility from the congressional race and entrance of another candidate are among the developments in the Ninth district this last week. Attorney J. L. Johns, Appleton, has definitely announced that he will not be a candidate for the Republican nomination despite the insistence of his friends that he enter the race.

Arnold F. Murphy, district attorney at Marinette, and well known in this city, is the latest candidate to toss his hat into the ring. Murphy's friends announced this week that he would get into the race for the Republican nomination.

Mr. Johns, in announcing that he will not be a candidate, said that his business is demanding so much of this time that he cannot get into the campaign. He said he owes a duty to his clients not to mix in politics at this time because it would necessitate his being away from his office the greater part of the summer.

NOT A SURPRISE

The announcement from Mr. Murphy does not come as a surprise inasmuch as his name was suggested some time ago. He said at that time "he was in the hands of his friends." Murphy is a comparatively young man. He is serving his second term as district attorney of Marinette county.

No announcement has been made relative to the candidacy of Judge Graess of Green Bay who is being urged to get into the campaign.

Interest thus far has been quite largely centered into the controversy between George Schneider of Appleton and Elmer S. Hall of Green Bay, both of whom are bidding for support of the La Follette-Blaine faction of the Republican party. The Farmer-Labor league of the Ninth district has endorsed Schneider's candidacy in favor of a letter from Senator LaFollette endorsing Hall. LaFollette has not committed himself since Schneider's endorsement, however, although the Farmer-Labor league has asked him for an expression.

According to information from political leaders here there is no possibility that Schneider will withdraw from the race in favor of Hall and there is little likelihood that Hall will quit. Both men are determined to remain in the campaign. It is said and both will seek support of LaFollette-Progressives.

NEW COAL RATES WILL BE EFFECTIVE TODAY

The new rates on coal shipments, based on mileage, ordered by the Wisconsin railroad commission early in April, and which were to become effective April 25, went into force today. The postponement was necessary because the railroad companies could not complete their new tariffs by April 25.

The new schedules gave Appleton a much more favorable coal rate from Green Bay but increase the tariff from Sheboygan and Milwaukee. Coal dealers here probably will secure most of their coal from docks in Green Bay instead from Sheboygan hereafter.

MAKES BIG GAIN IN WEIGHT AND IS FEELING FINE

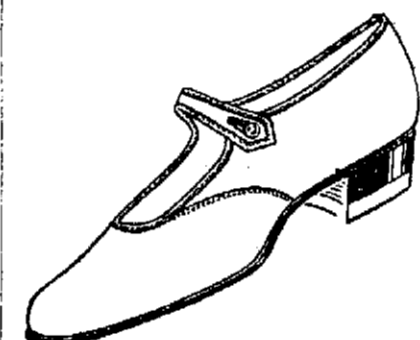

It Didn't Take This Grand Medicine Long To Make Me Feel Like An Entirely New Person, Declares Milwaukee Woman.

"As soon as I got Tanlac I began to improve and it didn't take this grand medicine long to make me feel like a new woman," declared Mrs. Della Zywick, 974 Third-st., Milwaukee. "I was entirely worn out, had no appetite and could scarcely force myself to eat. Even the sight of food almost made me sick. Then I suffered an attack of nervous prostration and thought my time for this world was about up. I fell off 60 pounds and got so weak I could hardly walk across the room."

"Now, although it is a year since I took Tanlac, I am still feeling fine. My weight has gone up from 100 to 140 pounds. I have a fine appetite and can easily do all my housework. Tanlac surely made life worth living for me."

WANT POWER AND FERTILITY FROM HUGE LAND AREA

Hoover Heads Group Which is Pushing Project Centering in Colorado

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Washington — How to harness 6,000,000 water horsepower, belonging to seven states, convert it into electric energy and irrigate 5,000,000 acres of land with the same water that furnishes the power, is the problem to be tackled by the Colorado River Commission, headed by Secretary of Commerce Hoover, at hearing to begin at Phoenix, Ariz., March 15.

At a preliminary session, just concluded in Washington, agreement was reached upon developing the power and irrigation facilities of the river as a unified whole, each development being considered as a part of one coordinated system.

As an index to the magnitude of the full development of the Colorado's power possibilities alone, proposals from private interests, applying for the right to develop individual sites provide for aggregate expenditures of more than $600,000,000.

SEVEN STATES AFFECTED
The problems of the Colorado affect directly seven states, and the necessity for reconciling the demands and claims of these separate states caused the creation of the commission headed by Hoover. Each of the states affected—Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming—has a representative.

As an example of these conflicting interests, California—which contributes least to the river itself—stands to benefit more largely by its development than any of the other states. Colorado and Utah, which supply about three-fourths of the water flow, are inclined to press their prior rights to the water for diversion for irrigation.

Before progress can be made a peace pact must be reached between these states providing for the division of the water supply. Such a compact would be subject to ratification by Congress and the various state legislatures.

FIRST DEVELOPMENT
First on the list of likely power sites to be developed is that at Boulder Canyon. Here the waters of the Colorado are compressed between towering rock walls only a few hundred feet apart. A dam 600 feet in height would provide water power to generate 600,000 horsepower of hydroelectric energy. Such a dam and plant would cost about $40,000,000.

Los Angeles, 250 miles to the south west, would be the first large market for the power thus developed. A large potential market, however, lies within 200 miles to the southeast in the mining districts near Phoenix. The Southern California Edison Company, in planning distribution of power, in event its application for one of the major power sites is granted, has planned to carry power as far as San Francisco, 500 miles distant.

The possibilities of power development on the Colorado may best be visualized when it is understood that in its 1700 miles of length the river drops more than 6200 feet. In the 350 miles between Glenn Canyon and Boulder Canyon there is a drop of 2,500 feet. And the annual volume of water passing down the gorge between Glenn and Boulder canyons would cover an area of 15,000 acres to a depth of 1,000 feet.

With this program definitely established, the big question remaining to be decided following the Phoenix conference—if it is successful in settling the conflicting claims of the states—will be the extent to which the development is to be done by public agencies. It is believed Secretary Hoover will recommend the development of the "key" sites by the government direct. States and municipalities may be given preference in developing others.

USE MANY METHODS TO SMUGGLE DRUGS INTO U. S. PORTS

"Dope" Traffickers Keep Government Puzzled Over Slick Distribution Schemes

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New York — America is being flooded with the greatest quantity of illicit drugs in history.

Where do they come from? How? The peril of these narcotics, breeding crime and breaking down the nation's health and mentality, is driving federal and city governments to extreme measures to check and blot out the evil.

Smuggling of narcotics is as systematic and as well organized on business lines as the smuggling of liquor. Like the latter there is no "international ring"—no single "drug king"—but the big smugglers work in concert for their mutual protection.

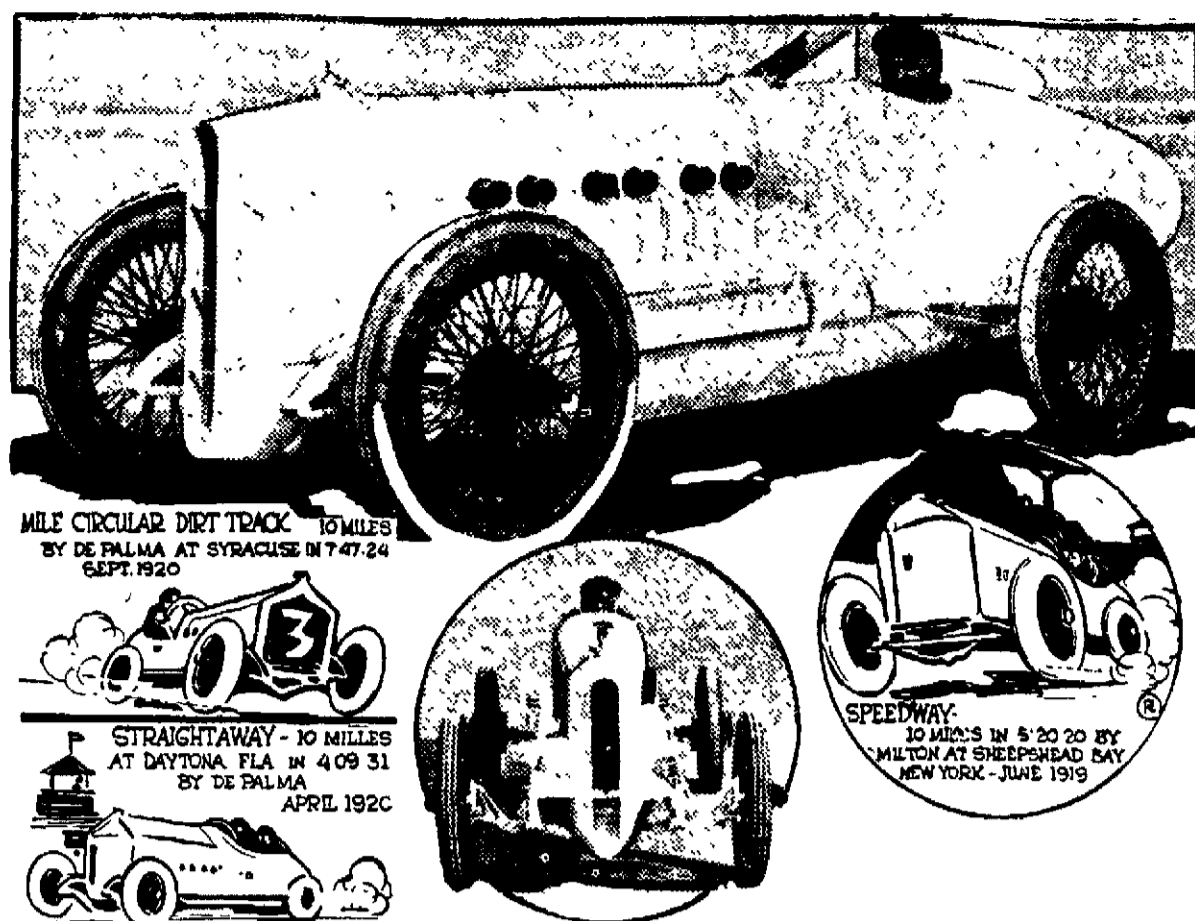

In 1929 opium legally imported amounted to 1,100,000 pounds from England, and 94,400 pounds from Japan.

Smuggled opium, and its derivatives morphine and heroin, in most cases originate as manufactured articles in England after the poppy leaves are brought in from China and India. Cocaine comes from South America, most of it via Europe. It is derived from the Coca Erythroxylon plant.

SMUGGLING CENTERS
The free city of Danzig and cities in Belgium and Italy are also smuggling centers.

Synthetic cocaine is the newest menace. Dr. Carleton Simon, special deputy police commissioner of New York, says an agent he sent abroad found that German chemists have made it commercially possible to 152.54 MILES AN HOUR!

MILE CIRCULAR DIRT TRACK 10 MILES BY DE PALMA AT SYRACUSE IN 7:47.24 SEPT. 1920

STRAIGHTAWAY - 10 MILES AT DAYTONA FLA IN 4:09.31 BY DE PALMA APRIL 1920

SIG HAUGDAHL IN HIS SPECIAL RACING CAR WITH WHICH HE BROKE WORLD'S STRAIGHTAWAY SPEED RECORD. BELOW, FRONT VIEW OF THE CAR'S 20 INCH WIDE BODY.

Averaging 152.54 miles an hour, Sig Haugdahl of Tondhjem, Norway, officially has beaten the world's straightaway auto speed record.

Haugdahl established records of 3.56 for 10 miles and 1.56 02 for five miles on the Daytona (Fla.) track.

The car used was a special racer with a body only 20 inches wide, mounted on a chassis with the usual 56 inch tread.

Haugdahl has lowered the straightaway record set at Daytona, April 25, 1920, by DePalma, who made 10 miles in 4:09.31.

Other motor speed records are: Speedway Five miles in 2:56.35 by Resta at Omaha, July 15, 1915, 10 miles in 5:20.20 by Milton at Sheephead Bay, N. Y. Jan. 14, 1919.

Mile dirt track DePalma, with 10 miles in 7:47.24 on Sept. 18, 1920.

manufacture cocaine as a coal tar byproduct.

"This drug the most popular among addicts is being smuggled in to America in amounts far in excess of natural production," says Dr. Simon.

A great deal of crude opium is brought into this country, manufactured into morphine and heroin, and then shipped to Canada or Mexico. All track of it having thus been lost, it is smuggled back into this country

Vieng with the big smugglers, who bring in trunks and bags filled with drugs, are those who use forged permits to withdraw narcotics in bulk from government bond.

This is an important source of contraband drugs. In Detroit a forged permit for 1600 ounces of gum opium was seized recently.

THROWN OFF SHIPS

Paralleling liquor smuggling, 10,000 cans of cocaine were thrown off a steamer approaching New York harbor, and seized by revenue officers before a confederate's launch could retrieve them.

Ships frequently throw off water-proof bags each containing 100 ounces of illicit drugs.

Government agents arrested a Brooklyn letter carrier who had a blue paper package, made by a London chemist for the Italian trade, containing 3 1-2 ounces of cocaine. A hundred such packages had been smuggled into the country in bulk, totaling 3500 ounces.

In the last few months $25,000 worth of narcotics were seized on a British freighter, a great quantity of cocaine was found in olive oil barrels on a French steamer, a steward on the steamer Finland was arrested and $40,000 worth of cocaine seized, and $150,000 worth of cocaine was confiscated on an Italian steamer.

The biggest raid on smugglers occurred in September when government agents boarded the Greek steamer King Alexander in New York harbor. Five sailors were shot and 327 prisoners taken, of whom 2 off-cers, 9 sailors and a dock guard were convicted and sent to prison.

Dr. Simon estimated $120,000 worth of illicit drugs are sold daily in the street market of New York.

"Nearly every ship coming into New York has a consignment of drugs which sailors or passengers are bringing in for smugglers," he said.

Murt Malone of Oshkosh, State Secretary of the Eagles, will attend the meeting of Eagles at their hall tonight. Every Eagle is urged to be present.

BOGAN NABS 3 MORE AUTOMOBILE SPEEDERS

Wilbur Bogan, Outagamie-co. motorcycle officer, gathered three more scalps in the war he is waging against speeding on the county highways. Three men arrested by him were taken into municipal court Wednesday morning and found guilty of breaking the speed laws. Each was fined $10 plus $3.20 costs by Judge A. M. Spencer. They were Louis W. Feller, arrested in Little Chute, Walter Hill, Center, and John Findler, Center.

EAGLES PREPARE TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Murt Malone, Oshkosh, state secretary of the Eagles, will attend the meeting of the local lodge this evening. Mr. Malone is expected to talk on the coming state convention in Madison June 5, 6, 7 and 8.

It is planned to operate a special train, starting at Kaukauna to pick up Eagles in the Fox river valley who will go to the state meeting. Several hundred Eagles expect to make the trip.

Announcing the Opening Sale Of The Finest Lake Shore Property on Lake Winnebago, SHORE ACRES

The NEWEST and MOST EXCLUSIVE Summer Home district is located within twenty minutes from Appleton, Neenah, Menasha or Kaukauna, on the northern shores of Lake Winnebago; one-half mile south of Highway 114, known as the Sherwood road; three-fourths mile east of Lake Park Corners, three miles east of Waverly Beach.

SHORE ACRES extends along the north east side of one of the largest inland lakes in America (Lake Winnebago.)

All sites average 100 feet in width, with an average depth of 330 feet. The purchase of a Summer Home site in SHORE ACRES includes the free and unrestricted use of a twelve acre park, an athletic field of seven acres to be used as Tennis Courts, Baseball Diamond, etc. Two acres as a Children's Playground. Community well, community water pressure tank, community ice house, and property for the caretaker's buildings.

SHORE ACRES is distinctive—there is nothing just like it, with all its unobstructive view of the surrounding country, and a panorama of Lake Winnebago; Nature was lavish with her gifts when she established the wonderful ravines and banks, and its wealth of trees and natural shrubs.

SHORE ACRES has building sites of many sorts. They respond readily to the dreams of the Summer Home Builder.

It is a natural desire to make the home where there is no hindrance of the view. Such Lake Property is greatly sought after in every community, that it soars tremendously in value. SHORE ACRES will duplicate this. It is so splendid, so preeminent, and at the same time so limited that in a short time none of it, probably, will be available.

The public is invited to inspect these premises, Sunday, May 14th.

Applications for Summer Home sites are in order. Plats and views at the office of

"IT'S BEEN WORTH $1,000 TO ME" WELL KNOWN OSHKOSH LADY DECLARES OF TRUTONA

Mrs. Fox Gained 10 Pounds Weight And Says She's Never Felt Better—Other Remedies Had Failed To Help Her At All.

"I've used three bottles of this medicine Trutona and it has certainly been worth a thousand dollars to me in restoring my health," Mrs. George Fox, 233 Division-st., Oshkosh, gratefully declared a few days ago.

"My stomach had caused lots of suffering in the past few years," she said. "I'd become terribly swollen and bloated after meals and it seemed that everything I ate hurt me. I felt so tired all the time I couldn't do my housework and in spite of the fact that I tried many different medicines, I just didn't seem able to get any relief. Then this great medicine Trutona was introduced in Oshkosh and I began using it. I think the best evidence of my improvement is the fact that I've gained ten pounds weight in the past month. But that's not all—my stomach simply acts like new now. If it wasn't for the memory, I'd never know my stomach had ever been out of order. The former painful bloating and swelling has all ceased to occur and I feel 100 per cent stronger now. And eat—well, I have a ravenous appetite now. I really can't remember when I'd felt so good and I certainly give Trutona full credit for my remarkable improvement."

Scores of well-known and highly respected Appleton residents are today praising Trutona. Just as does this well-known Oshkosh woman. Unknown to local people three months ago, Trutona is today recognized in hundreds of Appleton homes as the greatest stomach, liver, kidney, bowel or blood preparation ever introduced in this city. A trial will convince YOU of this great medicine's merit. It is sold and highly recommended in Appleton at SCHLINTZ BROTHERS' Drug Store.

LITTLE CHUTE IS FIRST TO REPORT IN LEGION CENSUS

Work of Following Up and Adjusting Claims is Started by Red Cross

First reports on the former service men's census have come in from the Little Chute post of the American Legion, to the Appleton Red Cross center which is now serving as headquarters for the survey in Outagamie. Members of the post started in their territory early this week and the first report sent in by Commander George J. Versteegen includes 19 questionnaires. The post is covering Vandewater town and the village of Little Chute.

Two of the war veterans interviewed are reported disabled from service, one of whom was sent to the government hospital at Maywood, Ill. Tuesday. One man does not carry government insurance, and six have not received their Victory medals.

The follow-up work of readjusting claims was begun at once by Miss Ann Helm, executive secretary of the local Red Cross chapter. As soon as more questionnaires begin pouring in from all parts of the county, the clean-up work will begin in earnest it was said. Great interest is manifested by the men who are at work on the census, it is reported.

WORKS AT KAUKAUNA

Mrs. Carrie Wisnicky, president of the American legion auxiliary of Kaukauna, was in Appleton early this week and reported on the survey now being conducted in that city. The auxiliary plans to cooperate with the legion, the women canvassing the city during the day and leaving work impossible for them to accomplish to the legion members to do in the evening. A joint meeting will be held next Tuesday evening. The work will take in Kaukauna, Combined Locks and Kaukauna and Freedom towns. Miss Helm is getting in touch with keymen in Freedom who will assist in the survey.

FORD TO SPEAK AT WELFARE MEETING

W. S. Ford, director of the vocational school, will give a talk on "Rehabilitation" at a meeting of the Appleton Welfare Council Thursday afternoon in the vocational school. During his talk Mr. Ford will present the plan of rehabilitation as it was presented before the Appleton Women's club some time ago. Efforts are being made to establish a committee which will represent the various institutions in this city and will work under the rehabilitation plan. Although the chamber of commerce has not taken up the matter, it is gaining headway here and is expected the movement soon will be adopted.

Under the plan, a man who is not making good in his work is assumed to be out of his element, and efforts will then be made to place him where he will be able to make an honest living.

NEW HOSPITAL COMPLETED BY NEXT SPRING

Sisters Start Work on $100,000
Chapel—Does Not Come
Out of City Fund

may be laid within a few days. This will enable carpenters to do part of their work on the quarters provided in this part of the building.

Carload after carload of material is being hauled to the hospital grounds, where modern mechanical facilities convert it into parts of the building with surprising speed. The huge steel tower and distributing service carload to any part of the vast structure in much less time than a huge crew of men with wheelbarrows could do the work. Many tons of steel are being used to reinforce the concrete. It is believed that more than 500 carloads of material will go into the project.

The extent to which the hospital is being made fireproof is more evident to the observer now than it will be when building is done. There is hardly a piece of wood going into the permanent structure of the building, the window frames, and they will be buried in concrete so fire will have no chance to get to them. The walls are of masonry-colored brick above the bedford stone base, and a layer of hollow tile is built inside the brick facing. Pillars all through the floors are of concrete. The floors themselves are of concrete and are to be surfaced with terrazzo.

READY NEXT SPRING

Asked when the hospital would be completed, Mr. Meyer said: "I hardly believe the building will be ready for use next March at the earliest. Taking into consideration the delays which we experience on almost every job, I estimated when we began work in April that it would take just about a year to finish the work. There is an immense amount of work to be done inside, and delays are sure to be encountered there also."

Financing of the construction work must be done as the expenditures are made, and for this reason every effort is being made by the Appleton hospital building committee to induce people to pay their pledges made in the hospital campaign some time ago. Many people are sending in their payments promptly when due and others are paying well ahead of the scheduled time knowing how much money is needed by the sisters to pay the contractors. Some pledges are not being paid as agreed, but it is believed none will delay their remittances when they are informed of the progress of the building operations.

It was the plan of the Franciscan sisters to defer building of the chapel for some time because of the immense burden they already had assumed in giving Appleton the hospital facilities it needed. The chapel was so small, however, that it has been almost impossible to conduct services properly. There are 28 sisters in the building and many patients, and persons in the neighborhood unable at times to reach their churches, who desire to attend the services. The situation was such that the devotional life of the hospital was handicapped.

These conditions hastened the sisters in their decisions, and the chapel contract was awarded to C. R. Meyer and Sons company also. None of the money subscribed by Appleton people for the hospital will be used to pay for the chapel. It is possible that the sisters may request assistance from their friends later in furnishing the new quarters for worship.

The basement of the chapel has been started. The building will have a foundation of granite bedford stone and will be faced with brick, similar to the new hospital unit. It will be 60 feet wide and 100 feet long, and two stories in height.

The portion of the old chapel extending beyond the present hospital building will be torn down as far as the stone walls of the basement. The side will be walled in, giving the old building two more rooms. The remaining part will be covered with a glass roof and a greenhouse installed within for flowers and for lettuce and other table vegetables which are to be grown in the winter for patients.

Europe Is Suffering From An Overdose Of Politics, Priest Says

People of War Devastated
Countries Resigned to Their
Lot—Father Van Nistleroy
Has Audience With Pope
Pius XI.

"Germany is the only country in Europe which has practically no unemployment situation," said the Rev. F. X. Van Nistleroy of Kimberly who has recently returned from a three months trip in Europe. "I visited Rhine proving mostly and every factory is running full time. The Krupp works are employing 15,000 more people than before the war. They are manufacturing automobiles, tools, locomotives and such things and selling them much cheaper than they can be made anywhere else."

The Kimberly priest arrived in Italy three days after the coronation of Pope Pius XI. He was in Rome for the dedication of the cathedral for American Catholics in Rome at which Cardinal O'Connell of Boston assisted. The new church is in the charge of the Paulist fathers.

SPEAKS 27 LANGUAGES

That the pope speaks 27 languages fluently was one of the things which astounded Father Van Nistleroy. When he had an audience with the pontiff there were eight others with him. At that time the Holy Father spoke Italian, French, Holland, English and German. Father Van Nistleroy believes that this ability to speak in the native language of so many people will enable the pope to help to solve their problems since people feel a strong bond between themselves and another who knows their tongue.

"All Europe is laughing at the United States for its prohibition," said the priest. "They think it a big joke and a terrible failure. It has made them firm in their decision never to try it in their countries. They scoff at a 'free country' which prohibits the use of alcoholic beverages."

TOO MUCH POLITICS

When asked about the political situation in Europe, the Kimberly priest said:

"Europe is suffering from an overdose of politics. The countries are being run by politicians who do not know business. Political hatred rules every act of government. It would seem. Most of Europe as I saw it feels that France is largely at fault in keeping the countries from settling their difficulties."

"There has been too much high talking politics and high grade deception in European governments. The people are all resigned to their lot for the most part, but they have that feeling of 'what's the use while these conditions in politics last?'"

In discussing the people of Europe today, Father Van Nistleroy said that they are missing nothing. They seem to be constantly asking "what next?" Everything is very expensive and yet the people have beautiful gowns, the theatres are crowded and so are the cabarets. There is a great deal of paper money in circulation but its value is uncertain. He thinks that people are really living in more luxury and going more and spending more money for clothes than before the war.

NEW MONEY STANDARD

One of the big things which this uncertain money situation will naturally bring about is a more nearly international money system. Already the far sighted men in the European countries whose money is unstable are keeping their books in American dollars and the English pound sterling and other moneys which have not lost their value. Because the big business men are dealing in dollars and cents, for instance, the middle man will and then the shopkeepers. In this way such worthless money as Russian rubles and German marks will tend to naturally disappear. Some one or more of the moneys now in good business standing will be accepted as the international standard.

"Tremendous taxes are being exacted in all European countries," said Father Van Nistleroy. "In England especially taxes are fabulous. In England there is much unemployment and many people in all countries are being forced to sell their property because they cannot pay their taxes. Even in Holland the taxes are fierce and conditions in general are unbalanced."

RUSSIA HAS CHANCE

There is considerable speculation in

The "Food-Drink" for All Ages.
Quick Lunch at Home, Office, and Fountains. Ask for HORLICK'S.
Avoid Imitations & Substitutes

Europe at this time concerning which country will be the best in 50 years and the consensus of opinion among the thinking men is that Russia has the best chance. According to the priest, it is generally understood that there is a contract existing between Russia and Germany and that Germany will go into Russia with all her energy, genius and invention and develop the tremendous resources of the country. The possibilities judged by Germany's past record are ending the way of development.

It is the opinion of the Kimberly man that the sooner that Austria becomes a province of Germany, the better it will be for her people. Prices are enormous there and the cities are gayer than ever before. Vienna is a city of amusement and carousing while no production whatever is taking place. The prices in Germany are listed in hundreds and thousands of marks while the common laborer earns only 200 or 400 marks, but the saving factor there is the industry and production. Austria has no such possibility.

STILL GO TO CHURCH

When asked whether the churches in Europe are being entirely ignored, the Catholic priest said: "I cannot say anything except for the Catholic churches. They were filled as much if not more than ever. It is true that morality has suffered considerably because of the loose social conditions, but the people continue to turn to their churches. They do not know where all this is leading them and they turn to the church for solace."

After leaving Italy, Father Van Nistleroy visited in France, Holland, Germany and England. On his trip he visited Vesuvius and went up on the volcano on horse back. He was at Monte Carlo where there were many Americans he said. He visited Paris for a few days, went to the Rhine province, but spent six weeks in his old home in Holland. There are not so many Americans touring Europe now because most of them are waiting for the Passion play.

In his travels in Europe, the Kimberly priest found that France especially is rebuilding her devastated country rapidly. Evidence of the damage of the war are rapidly disappearing and some of the new buildings are more beautiful than the old. He says that to visit Europe now is a great education and well worth any one's while.

Answers to the alumni questionnaire which is being sent to graduates of Lawrence college in preparation for the 1923 Alumni Record are coming to the college office rapidly. The more recent classes have been complying at once with the request for information concerning themselves since they left school.

No alumni list has been printed at Lawrence since 1915. The volume this time will not only contain the "who's who" of graduates but also as complete a list as possible of former students who did not finish their course at Lawrence. A seventy-fifth anniversary jubilee feature will be added with a complete report of the jubilee celebration.

Don't Forget To Bare Head As Colors Pass

Special attention is to be given by patriotic societies this year to the education of the public in Memorial day etiquette due the flag and military bodies. Due to ignorance last Memorial day very few hats were removed when the colors, veterans of three wars and military company passed and had it not been for officers in line demanding proper respect for the colors and military bodies it is doubtful if there would have been very many bare heads.

Frances Hodgson Burnett's charming story of mother love and child life has been brought to the screen in all its appeal and little Mary enacts the dual role of Cedric and Dearest. She has a capable supporting cast.

Owing to the length of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" there will be three performances, the matinee at 2:30 daily and the evening shows at 6:45 and 8:45. Scott and Woods will offer appropriate selections and a News reel will be shown.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Beauty, youth, wealth, social position—these had failed to bring happiness to LUCINDA PRICE, New York society matron, in the fifth year of her married life. She and her husband, BELLAMY, content to drift apart and now he was openly indulging his appetite for promiscuous flirtation and heavy drinking. Just as Bellamy was plunging into his latest affair, this time with MRS. AMELIE SEVERN, RICHARD DAUBENEY, Lucinda's old sweetheart, returns to New York. On the morning when Bellamy promised reformation, Lucinda overheard him making an appointment with Amelie Severn for luncheon at the Clique Club.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

Frost in the air of that early winter day lent its sunshine the cold brilliance of diamond dust. On Fifth Avenue the crash of motor cars had grown so dense that one could hardly drive from the Plaza to Thirty-fourth street in less than thirty minutes.

Bellamy turned over every halt dictated by the semaphore lights of the traffic towers. In his understanding it was essential that the car should set him down in front of the sedate pressed brick structure on East Third street, whose entrance was flanked by an ever-stained plate of brass adorned with dignified black letters, "OFFICES OF THE PRICE ESTATE—necessary for the planting of what he was pleased to term his 'allibi'."

It was true, Lucinda had never deigned to question a servant about his comings and goings; he had no reason to believe she would ever be so far forgetful of her dignity. Still, if one will flirt with fire, the first rule is to take out the matches.

Today found Bellamy more out of humor with himself than ever before, more disposed to consider turning over a new leaf, a project often mooted by his conscience always when he was falling out of love, often approved but never seriously tackled.

Thrice in the course of the scant hour he spent at his desk Bellamy put out a hand to the telephone, meaning to call up Amelie and call it off, and thrice withheld his hand partly because he hated the thought of a wrangle over the wire, partly because he was afraid the girl at the switchboard might listen in.

In the end he left his office half an hour earlier than he need have and took a taxi to the Clique.

The Clique Club was a post-prohibition institution of New York, run indirectly, more or less open, and famously successful defiance of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Amelie Severn kept Bellamy kicking his heels a bad quarter of an hour longer than she need have, but his temper was obscured by the admiration which her undeniable good looks excited. There was compensation in the knowledge that one had made a conquest of so rare a creature.

Amelie had married Ross Severn because he was well-to-do, uninteresting, middle-aged, of good family, and had quickly repented because he spoiled her and showed no intention of coupling to be a good life-insurance risk.

She frankly owned as much while Bellamy was helping her with her way in the semi-seclusion of their as yet unchartered booth.

"Thrilled to a jellybean," she declared. She shrugged out of her furs, planted her elbows upon the table, cradled her chin upon the backs of engaged fingers, and peered about the room with quick, inquisitive, bird-like glances. "Ross would be furious."

"None so. If he weren't he ought to be spoken to about it."

"Oh, why worry about Ross? He's just a husband."

"And husbands haven't any rights worth considering."

"I'd like to see Ross . . ."

A laugh of lazy insolence rounded off Amelie's thought. "Besides, I'm not doing anything wrong."

"Not yet," Bellamy admitted equably. He nodded to their hovering waiter. "What kind of cocktail, Amelie? Everything else is ordered."

"A T.N.T. please."

The waiter noted down this frightful prescription with entire equanimity, but lingered. "Et monsieur?"

"Nothing, thank you."

"Nothing, monsieur?" Professional poise was sadly shattered for an instant.

"Do you want the waiters to think you bring me here solely to satisfy my appetite for liquor?"

"Sorry, Amy. Make it a rule never to drink before evening."

"Then why come here at all?"

Bellamy surveyed the restaurant without bias. "Not a bad little hole for people in our position."

The mellow, inedible and unclean, was removed, soup in cups was substituted.

"People in our position? I'm to understand, then, any 'little hole' is good enough for me, so long as I don't interfere with Lucinda's parties at the Ritz."

Bellamy straightened his spine and put down his spoon. An understanding captain of waiters read his troubled eye and made casual occasion to draw the curtains across the front of the booth.

"It is because Lucinda's lunching at the Ritz today, isn't it?"

"My dear Amy," said Bellamy coolly. "I'm unaware of having done anything to provoke this, and if I've sinned unwittingly, I beg your pardon very truly. Won't you believe that, please, and let me off for today? I'm feeling rather rusty myself, and this is beginning to get on my nerves."

At his first words the woman drew back, flushing, eyes stormy above a mouth whose gentle allure lost itself in a hardening line. Then swiftly reconsideration followed, visibly the selfish second thought took shape in the angry eyes and melted their ice to a mist of unshed tears beneath lids newly languorous. The petulant tenderness, Amelie's hand fell upon Bellamy's in a warm, convulsive clasp. She leaned across the corner of the table.

He kissed her adequately but without any sort of emotion, thinking it strange. All the while her mouth clung to his, that he should so clearly know this to be good acting, no more than that, no less. Bellamy was not accustomed to see through women at so young a stage of intimacy; that came later, came surely; but never before had it come so soon.

A little quake of dread he wondered if it were because he had grown old beyond his years, too aged in sentimental tipping to have retained the capacity for generous credulity of his younger years. Or was it that the woman's insincerity had so eaten out her heart, no technical perfection could lend persuasion to her playing, her carresses potency? Or that he had since morning, fallen in love with his wife all over again and so truly that no rival passion could seem real?

It was true, at least, that his thoughts were quick and warm with memories of Linda even while he was most engaged with the effort to do justice to Amelie's lips. And perceiving this to be so, self-contempt took hold of him like sickness.

"BUT IF SHE SHOULD DIVORCE YOU"

They resumed their poses of nonchalant and sophisticated creatures amiably discussing an informal meal. But first the woman made effective use of a handkerchief.

"Forgive me, dear," she murmured. "I know it was perfectly rotten of me. But I couldn't help it. I'm a bit overwrought. Not too happy; being in love with you has made the way things are at home doubly hard to endure, you must know that; and then—of course—she smiled nervously—"I'm jealous."

He was silent, fiddling with a fork, avoiding her eye.

"Of Lucinda—you understand?"

He nodded heavily. "Yes."

She nodded an instant, and when he didn't say more began to see that she had overplayed her hand.

"You do love me, don't you, Bell?"

"Of course."

"Then you must know how hard it is for me, you can't blame me for growing impatient."

This time he looked up and met her gaze. "Impatient for what?"

"Why, for what every woman expects when she's in love and the man whom she loves loves her; something definite to look forward to. I mean, we can't go on like this, of course."

"No, not like this."

"I'm not the kind of a woman for a hole-and-corner affair. Bell, if I were you wouldn't be in love with me."

He nodded intently. "What do you propose?"

"I've been waiting for that to come from you dear; but you never seem to live for anything but the moment."

"I've got to know what's in your mind, Amy. Tell me frankly."

"Well, then," she saw the mistake of it instantly, but the ring of challenge—"I fancy it means Ross for both of us."

"Meaning I'm to divorce Linda and marry you?"

She gave a deprecating flutter of hands. "What else can we do?"

Bellamy said with a stubborn shake of his head: "Never without good cause; and as far as I know Linda's blameless. I'm a pretty hopeless proposition. I know, but not quite so bad as all that."

Amelie sat back, her color rising. She could not misinterpret the determination in his temper; yet vanity would not permit her to forgo one last attempt. "But if she should divorce you?"

LIQUOR SEARCH DECLARED LEGAL

Prohibition Officers Need No Warrant to Enter Soft Drink Parlors

By Associated Press

Madison — The right of prohibition officers to search without warrant, soft drink parlors licensed to sell non-intoxicating beverages, was upheld by the Wisconsin supreme court when it sustained provision of Severson law under which the saloon of H. Silder of Milwaukee was entered. Justice Owen wrote the opinion which was concurred in by the court without dissent.

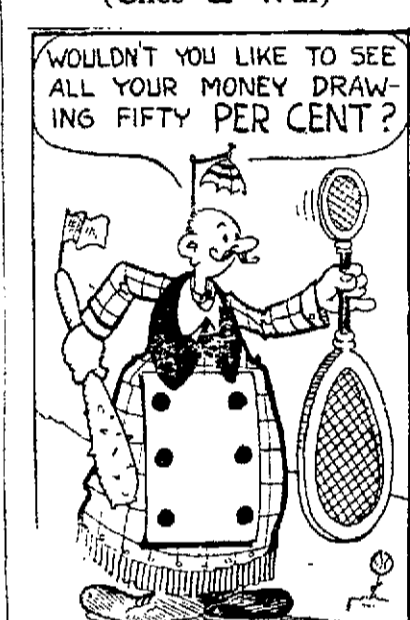

Justice Owen held that "as the state may prohibit dealing in non-intoxicating liquors it may permit the traffic therein under such conditions as it may prescribe."

One condition imposed by the legislature was the right of search without warrant. "No reason is perceived," the opinion stated, "why the legislature as a condition for granting permission to conduct a business which it may prohibit may not require the licensee to submit his premises to an inspection by the lawful authorities without the issuance of a search warrant."

"If the licensee could prevent an effective inspection by the simple expedient of the law would be seriously frustrated."

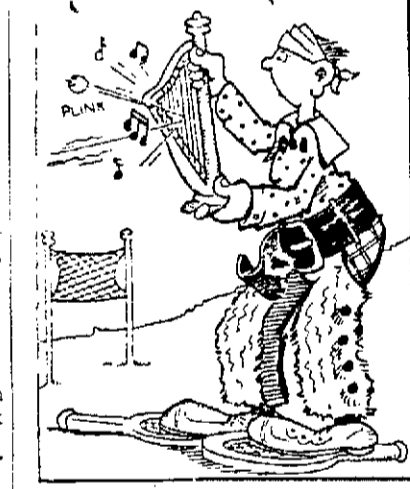

Gustave Keller, Jr., who spent the weekend at home, has returned to resume his studies at the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

BENNETT WHALES AWAY AT PRESS IN HIS LATEST PLAY

"What the Public Wants" is Satire on Modern Journalism—Plays in Gotham

By John O'Donnell
New York—When Arnold Bennett plunged into the task of proving that sensational journalism is inherently wrong, he entered with a play which proved that Mr. Bennett, dramatist, is more effective when he thumbs his nose than when he shakes his fist.

"What the Public Wants" is the Bennett play on modern journalism which is being given for the first time in New York as the final production by the Theater Guild for the current season.

Interesting, well staged, well acted—there were particularly splendid contributions by Margaret Wycherly and Louis Calvert—this drama provides good entertainment even if the last two acts failed to realize what the first two promised.

THUMBS HIS NOSE
For two delightful, witty acts, Bennett thumbs his nose in most charming fashion at Sir Charles Worgan, millionaire owner of a string of English newspapers and weeklies, in the third act, the dramatist shakes a moralizing fist in the fourth, he wags a rebuking finger.

The newspapers of Sir Charles, genus of modern journalism, have the greatest circulation in the world. Circulation built up by the regular stock in trade scandal, human interest, crusades and campaigns, political muckraking and war scares.

"The only one principle," the great journalist explains, "Give the public what it wants. Don't give the public what you think it ought to want, or what you think would be good for it, but what it actually wants."

"There seems to be a notion that because I sell newspapers and not soap or flannel I ought to be a cross between General Booth, H. G. Wells and the League of Nations. I'm only a manufacturer and my specialty is what the public wants—in printed matter."

This, the open declaration of principle, but in the heart of a secret ache. Outwardly he detests the "superior," the intellectual kind of people. Inwardly he envies them.

The great publisher begins to realize that he is an intellectual "Hani Ape." His brother suggests the solution: marry an intellectual woman.

"SUPPLY MUST MEET DEMAND!" He becomes engaged to an actress in an art theater which he first saves from financial ruin and then plunges into artistic ruin by making it popular.

Later his fiancée, Emily (Margaret Wycherly) persuades him to stop the publication of a series of "Famous Crimes of Passion," one of which will rake up an old scandal and injure his mother's dearest friend. He yields, not to Emily's appeal to his sense of decency but to her caresses. She breaks the engagement.

Sir Charles will continue running his scandal. "The supply must meet the demand."

Emily: "Yes, I believe if the sacred public wanted your wife, you'd meet the demand."

Adventures Of
The Twins

Tale of a Train
Nancy and Nick and Buskins listen with interest to the tale of the smoke ring, and how it has caused the rich man to help the poor one.

"Well, that's that," sighed a black smoke pillar loudly. This fellow was large and black and fierce looking. "But I, too, have seen wonderful things. I'm out of engine No. 49 that pulls the United States Limited, the most wonderful train in America."

"One time we were carrying some valuable express packages, a million dollars in gold. I was told afterwards I had just come out of the big black smoke stack of the engine and was looking around at the rough country, when I noticed something."

"The track made a deep curve around a hill, and just as the engine started around the curve, I saw some figures ahead of it with a red flag in their hands. Also I noticed that the figures wore masks and carried guns, and beyond them in a little valley some horses were standing, saddled and bridled and ready to go. I saw at once what was going to happen. My beloved train would be stopped and robbed and lose its reputation for safety."

"There was only one thing to do," said the black smoke pillar importantly. "I took a short cut across the hill and dropped one of my sharp black cinders into the eye of the man who had the flag. He gave one yell and dropped the flag, clapping his hand to his face. The other crowd of men around him to see what was the matter. They thought something dreadful had happened. Just then my train whizzed by. I had saved it."

"Fine!" cried all the other smoke pillars, and Nancy and Nick and Buskins who were listening, clapped their hands. "But didn't the men come back?" asked Nick.

"No," said the smoke pillar, "for the gold was delivered that day. The next day was too late." (To Be Continued.) (Copyright, 1922, NEA Service)

YOUR EYES CAN BE MORE
LOVELY, BATHE THEM!

BEAUTIFUL EYES ARE NOT ALWAYS THE GIFT OF THE GODS.
POSED BY FRITZIE SCHEFF.

By Helena Rubinstein
Famous New York Beauty
Specialist

Eyes must be beautiful. Half the faces we believe are beautiful owe their loveliness to the life and brilliancy of their eyes.

And, unless there is some physical defect, attractive eyes can be the possession of any woman.

In the first place, eyes need quite the same careful cleansing the skin needs. That they do not get it is often the cause of dullness.

WASH THEM DAILY
They should be washed every morning. Fill an eye cup with a good wash, recommended by an authority, fit it over the eye then bend the head back far enough that the liquid forms a complete bath for the eyes.

Naturally, during this process the eyes should be open. Each eye should be given similar treatment.

If a liquid eye wash is not practical, cold water will have a very beneficial effect if used in the method described.

And if one's economies must go even beyond this, the eye cups can be dispensed with and a bowl filled with cold water used instead. The water should not be cold enough to shock the sensitive nerves of and around the eyes.

The substitution of the bowl of water for the eye cups will require a little practice, for the face, eyes open, must be put into the water and kept there for several minutes.

Turning the face a little to the side so that one eye is bathed at a time is the better method.

OUR FIRST YEAR

Chapter 30 — Seeds of Dissension

By a Bride

Left alone at home for the first time since my marriage, I was lone some to the verge of weeping.

Of course Jack would have married Mrs. Herrod instead of me had she been his own age.

Why hadn't I seen it before it was too late?

I fell to crying bitterly then went to bed and pretended to be sound asleep when Jack came home. I murmured something inaudible when he spoke to me and snuggled up to sleep until nearly dawn.

Fortunately the next day was a holiday and we slept late. It rained, weather that ordinarily we would have welcomed with joy, for it made a day we could have to ourselves.

But my joy did not materialize, for my thoughts of the previous evening continued to harass me. What had Jack said to Mrs. Herrod? What had she said to Jack?

Sleeplessness and the need to tell Jack of those bills made my nerves ragged. Jack's soft whistling irritated me. When he spoke, my replies were far from honeyed.

Once in a while my husband's good nature annoys me. He is exact, practical, and when he is absorbed in his own thoughts he has an abrupt way of meeting a question with quick concentration, answering it briefly and precisely. It was so that morning.

And as any wife would have done, I concluded that he was still thinking about his game and the lady of the previous evening.

At last the weather cleared a little. We decided to take a long walk.

I adjusted my hat, put on my gloves remembered my adored string of mock pearls which I wear every-where I go.

But in adjusting them rather clumsily with my gloved fingers they caught on a button of my coat, the string broke and the tiny globules of moonlight rolled to the far corners of the room.

Teas came to my eyes. Jack half shaved, hurried to my assistance. We could not find all of them. We never did find three of them. Jack's patience exasperated me. I could hardly coax him to relinquish the search for the missing three.

Surely, my husband must be the very best man in the world. That morning he was almost too good. He could not or would not perceive that I was decidedly out of temper. And had he seen, I'm sure he would have hunted up some plausible excuse for my nervous tension.

Prune Dishes

USE plenty of prunes during these early spring days. From breakfast to dinner there is a place for them in every menu.

Stewed prunes for breakfast may pull if served as plain stewed prunes too often, but if lemon juice is added and the prunes carefully removed from the stones and the whole served in glass as a fruit cocktail the family won't object to the "same old prunes."

Prune whip is a delicious and nourishing dessert. It can be varied in several ways—the sauce can be boiled custard or whipped cream, nuts can be added to the pudding itself.

Children and invalids may be served prune whip quite as happily as well persons.

PRUNE WHIP
Five eggs (whites), 1 cup mashed stewed prunes, 1 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

It will take about one third of a pound of uncooked prunes to make one cup mashed and stewed prunes. Wash prunes carefully through several waters. Cover with one cup of cold water and let stand an hour. Cook in same water till tender.

Remove stones and rub prunes through a colander. Add sugar and cook till the mixture begins to thicken. Remove from fire and let cool. Add salt, cream of tartar and vanilla to prunes. Add gradually to the whites of the eggs beaten till stiff and dry.

This means absolutely "stiff and dry." The whites must stand up. They should be beaten on a large platter with a wire whisk. Put pudding mixture in a buttered pudding dish. Set in a pan of hot water and bake 25 minutes in a moderate oven.

Serve cold with boiled custard or whipped cream. One-half cup of English walnuts may be added the last thing before baking.

CORNSTARCH PRUNE PUDDING
One quarter cup cornstarch, 1/2 pound prunes, 2 cups cold water, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 inch piece stick cinnamon, 1-1 1/2 cups boiling water, 1 lemon.

Wash prunes through several waters. Add the two cups of cold water.

et and let stand an hour. Boil until soft in same water. Remove stones from prunes and return prunes to the water in which they were cooked. Add sugar, cinnamon and boiling water and simmer 15 minutes.

Mix cornstarch to a smooth paste with a little cold water. Stir into prune mixture and cook, stirring constantly for five minutes. Remove from fire and take out the cinnamon. Add the juice of the lemon and turn into a mold to become firm and chill. Serve with whipped cream. This is a simple delicious dessert.

RICE BORDER WITH PRUNES
Eighteen large prunes, 4 tablespoons rice, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 1/2 cup shredded pistachio nuts, 2 cups milk, 1/4 gill whipping cream, 3 eggs (yolks), 2 tablespoons peach marmalade, 1/2 lemon, grated rind and juice.

Cook the rice in the milk until tender. Add lemon rind and sugar and let stand in a warm place uncovered for 15 minutes. Stir in the yolks of the eggs and the lemon juice. Put in a buttered ring mold, set in a pan of hot water and bake half an hour.

Remove from mold when cool.

HOW TO RECLAIM
SUGARED FUDGE

Mona Tells How She Makes
Creamy Fudge—Uses Water
Instead of Milk

By Marian Hale
One buys it in little yellow boxes, lettered on the top "Mona's Fudge!" One tastes it.

And then one asks for the recipe—if one dares!

Mona's fudge is famous in New York. And delicious—naturally!

The excellence of her chocolate fudge Mona attributes to using water instead of milk in the making.

"I use butter, though," says Mona "to make up in fats what the water lacks in comparison to the milk. But results in a much creamier product."

"With the maple sugar I use milk. Maple needs it."

"Another fudge trick I have learned is that of reclaiming apparently hopelessly sugared candy. Put it back in the pan and on the stove. Then add a little corn sirup, recock it just as if you were making new fudge and at the finish you'll have nice, creamy candy."

"I learned fudge making quite in fun from one of your 'American girls'—Mona is English—'shortly' after I came over. You know fudge isn't at all English."

And now Mona makes her living with the thing she learned in fun!

Aged Woman Is Real Expert In Road Building

Mobile, Ala. — With a party of other road making experts, Mrs. Anna M. Kendall, supervisor of highways in Washington county, Ala., has been making a tour of inspection of the "Gulf" to the "Canada" thoroughfare over which in her own time, and Mrs. Kendall is 72 years old, she believes refrigerator motor-trucks will carry southern products of farm garden and orchard to consumers of the north.

Mrs. Kendall has studied road building for 50 years. In this class of engineering she is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. She has toured Europe, studying roads, especially the old Roman highways, some of which are as good as when they were laid.

Her work in Washington county recently brought her public congratulations from Congressman McDuffy. She is the only woman road supervisor in the south and perhaps in the world.

To the problem of profitable farming she says the answer is to be found in good roads.

Cover with the marmalade, sprinkle with the blanched and shredded nuts and fill the center with the prunes. The prunes should be carefully stewed and stoned and kept as perfect as possible.

Garnish with whipped cream to serve. This is a rather more elaborate dessert but wholesome and easily digested.

CLEAN MATTING
Don't wash or scrub the matting with soapy water. It will injure it. Go over it with a broom that has been dampened in hot water and then go over it with a cloth that has been dipped in salt water. Salt freshens the color and prevents it from becoming yellow.

WASHING FLANNELS
A very little soap suds in the last rinsing water for flannels will prevent them from getting stiff and bunched.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED
You will open immediately the box of candy your caller brings and pass it to him as well as to others in the room.

You will have the bonbons to be passed at the conclusion of the family dinner on the table in a fancy dish at the beginning of the meal.

You will have candy tongs in the bonbon dish which is passed around the table. But this is unnecessary with candy which is not an accompaniment of dinner.

GRape-Nuts—the Body Builder
"There's a Reason"

Made by Postum Cereal Company, Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

What kind of an answer? The right thing, or just anything? It makes a big difference.

Grape-Nuts, so deliciously crisp and appetizing to taste, and so quick and convenient to serve, is a splendid food for rebuilding young bodies. All the wonderful nutrient put in wheat and barley by Nature, including the vital mineral elements, is there—and Grape-Nuts digests easily, quickly and completely. Served with cream or milk, Grape-Nuts is exceptionally nourishing.

"That's splendid!" says appetite. "That's just the need!" say the hungry muscles, nerves and bones.

Ready to serve right from the package — always crisp and fresh. A favorite dish with all the family. Sold by grocers.

CELEBRATION TO USHER IN 1922 PENNANT RACE

Plans Are Complete For Opening Game Of Flag Chase Here Next Sunday

Automobile Parade to be Held and Mayor Henry Reuter Will Pitch First Ball: Appleton Strengthened Lineup.

Plans are being completed for the celebration for the official opening of the 1922 baseball season in Appleton next Sunday when the Appleton and Menasha teams meet at Brandt park in the first game of the Fox River Valley league pennant race. The opening day ceremonies will be featured by a big street parade and band concert and Mayor Henry Reuter will officially get the 1922 season in Appleton underway by throwing the first ball of the game over the plate.

Automobile dealers of this city will cooperate with officials of the Appleton Baseball club in staging the street parade. The procession will start from College ave. and Superior st. at 1:30 in the afternoon. The parade will proceed to College ave. and Oneida st. where it will be joined by a procession from Menasha. The parade will traverse the business streets in Appleton and then to Brandt park.

PLAYERS LEAD PARADE
Baseball players will occupy the first cars in the procession and fans will ride in other cars in the parade. Arrangements are being made for come stunts on the streets while the parade is moving.

The Menasha club will take the field at 2 o'clock for 15 minutes of fielding practice and the Appleton club will practice from 2:15 until 2:30. At 2:30 Mayor Henry Reuter will throw the first ball over the plate and the Fox River Valley league pennant race will be on.

The Appleton club is being strengthened this week by the addition of several new players. Grady, a fast shortstop from Milwaukee, has been signed and will play the short field in Sunday's battle. Grady is highly recommended by Schultz Schott and Klawitter who say he is a classy fielder and a hard hitter. Manager Brandt also is in communication with a first class third baseman who he expects to have under contract by Thursday. The probable lineup for Sunday's battle follows: Schultz pitcher, Schott catcher; Klawitter, first base; Gaffke, second base; Grady shortstop; Duran left field; Luedtke center field; Steen or Bover right field. The name of the third baseman has not yet been announced.

HAYWARD SUFFERS LOSS OF $200,000 IN FIRE

Hayward—The big sawmill of the Hines Lumber company, and the McCormick grade school here were masses of charred ruins on Tuesday after they had been swept by flames which originated in the sawmill and were carried across the intervening half mile of open space by high winds. The loss, it was estimated, would exceed $200,000. Origin of the blaze remains a mystery.

Firemen battling the flames were handicapped by the collapse of a smokestack at the pumping station which cut off the water supply. Rain which began falling, however, a short time after the school building caught fire probably prevented greater damage in the city.

When You Score A Ball Game

REMEMBER—

If the batsman with one or no out hits a fly ball that is caught but results in a run being scored on the catch, the batsman is credited with a sacrifice hit. If the fly ball is missed, but in the judgement of the scorer, would have resulted in a run had it been caught, the batsman is likewise credited with a sacrifice hit.

BABE RUTH TO LEAVE HOSPITAL WEDNESDAY

New York—Babe Ruth, who underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils several days ago, will be able to leave the hospital Wednesday, his physicians expected.

He is confident he will be in condition to get back into the game May 20, when his suspension expires.

JIMMY NUSS DEFEATS KNIPP AT WATERLOO

Waterloo—Jimmy Nuss, Racine, won a newspaper decision over Fritz Knipp, Waterloo, in a 10 round bout here Tuesday night. The first four rounds were even but the Wisconsin boxer started to pile up a lead in the fifth and sixth rounds. The bell saved Knipp in the seventh. Knipp rallied in the tenth but Nuss finished strong. Both men are middleweights.

Battle In London

LEWIS

CARPENTIER

Upon the outcome of Georges Carpentier's fight on May 11, in the arena in London with Ted Lewis, will depend the French gladiator's plan to challenge the winner of the Greb-Tunney encounter for light heavyweight honors, set for New York on the night of May 22.

In case Georges should lose to the 'Kid' he would of course be out of line for a meeting with the New York victor, but he is in correspondence with the managers of the two prospective participants in this encounter on the evident supposition that there is no doubt he will acquire himself satisfactory to himself, against his next opponent.

He ought to be for Lewis though a game, clever fighter, has figured hitherto in the welterweight class and at present is only European champion in that, the world's title which he and Jack Britton exchanged between them for some time, being held now by the latter. Ted has a reputation for extraordinary speed but so has Carpentier.

The odds are around 5 to 5 on the Frenchman but there are plenty of takers at this figure. The Lewis men say Carpentier will have no such set-up as with Beckett, the 'Kid' being far craftier and tougher. Besides, there are those who assert Carpentier's jolt did Georges no good.

Carpentier's friends say their man will win by a knockout in about eight rounds. Lewis rooters predict that Ted will do the same thing in about four.

Dempsey has been asked for his opinion, but hasn't given it. The opinion is it's certain he thinks the Frenchman the better fighter.

TED LEWIS HOPES TO BEAT FRENCH BOXER THURSDAY

English Middleweight Champ Meets Carpenter in 20 Round Battle

London—London goes to bed with fingers crossed tonight for another British champion.

Ted Lewis, English welterweight and middleweight champion, meets Georges Carpentier, the European light heavyweight champion tomorrow night and all England "hopes."

Conservative friends have only a hope for the upholding of British prestige in a twenty round contest where Lewis, the present idol of the English ring, will have to spot eighteen pounds to the heaviest hitting fighter in Europe.

Lewis, who finished his training yesterday, said he thought he would weigh around 150 pounds when he enters the ring, while the Frenchman said he would not weigh more than 165, the same poundsage that he carried when he was knocked out last July by Jack Dempsey.

Friends of Lewis, including many smart boxing men, give him a good chance against the Frenchman. They point out that the former world's welterweight champion is fighting better than he ever has before and that Carpentier is not the same ring terror since he took the terrible beating that Dempsey gave him in Jersey City.

The sharp, who like the short end of odds figure Lewis can win the decision if he is able to stick over five rounds with Carpentier. They like the Englishman's style of infighting and they reckon that Carpentier will not be able to hit a smaller opponent with the accuracy of his aim against a bigger man.

IF THIS PLAY COMES UP

Here's Your Decision

If a substitute player is sent into the game either as a pinch hitter or fielder, and the player fails to inform the umpire of his entry into the game, he immediately replaces in the lineup the player for whom he is substituting, and any play made by such unannounced substitute shall be legal. In all leagues under organized base ball a fine of $25 is imposed against the team that so offends.
